A FAREWELL UPDATE TIGER 1987

We began as Highland School District No. 41 in 1891, only a one room school house at Baseline and Cooper Roads, with high school students riding by horseback, driving a buggy or walking to Mesa High School for classes.

The Gilbert School District name was adopted in 1913 due to the new stucco building's location only a few blocks from town. Gilbert High School was organized in 1915 and met in the Latter Day Saint's Chapel across the street from the elementary school, now known as "The Alamo". Some high school classes met in the Alamo in unused elementary rooms.

In a "friendly" lawsuit, challenged by Mesa, Gilbert withdrew from the Mesa District between 1917-1919, and the first Gilbert High School class graduated in 1918 with four members.

The Gilbert High School class of 1987 remembers their years as students; times with friends and class work with teachers; we also reflect on the 70 years there has been a Gilbert High School.

ADVANCING ON EXCUSES

Work vs. Fun, which one wins?

How often did our teachers assign loads of homework on weekends or on special nights? We started the day fantasizing of our date with the "dream"; we went through each class in a daze, wondering how the night would turn out. The day went by slowly, but finally 7th hour arrived. Ten seconds 'til the bell ... 9 ... 8 ... 7 ... 6 ... 5 "Oh, class." No! The teacher wrote something on the board. What was it? Read pages 24-44 in the literature book and answer questions 1-20 on page 45? No! Not tonight! My date! How could she?!

The date went fine, but the homework didn't get done, and that is where the excuse came in. You had to think up the perfect excuse; one that was original, which your teacher never used or ever heard, and most of all very believable. A tragic event or emergency would always do the trick, so you thought hard and realized that your only chances were: an original excuse or a very gullible teacher!!

Kevin Fike cheered up quickly as soon as he heard the bell for lunch.

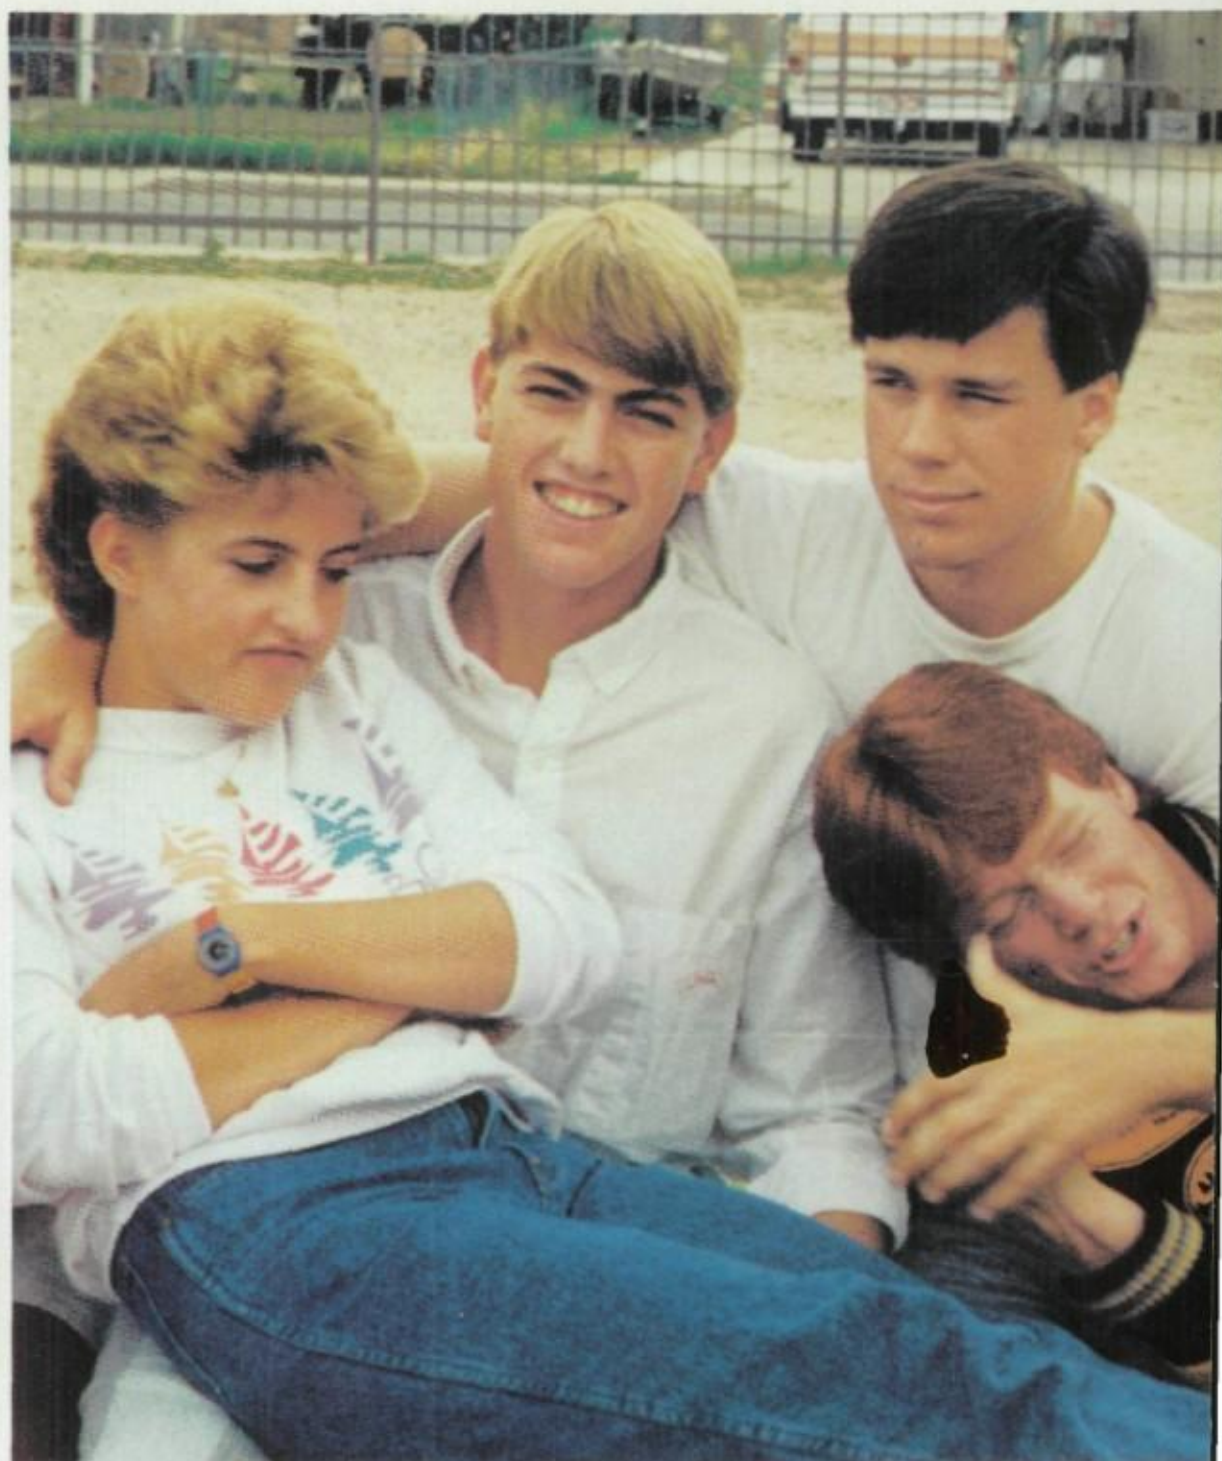

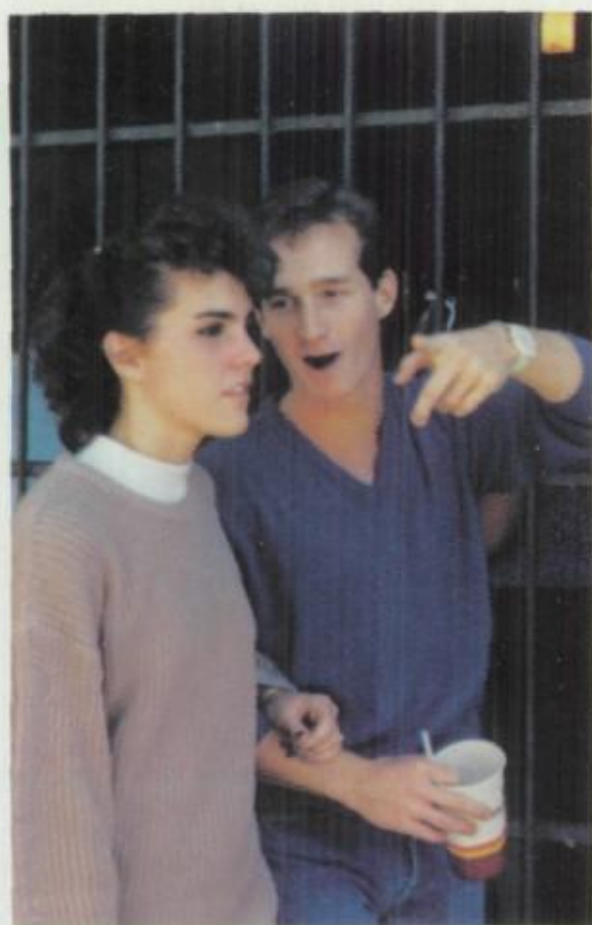

Travis Cooley patiently waited for his teacher to call upon his great knowledge.

Rachelle Vidal and Leonardo Munoz caught a chance to talk between classes.

Shawn Sparks looked on as Mr. Bushong explained the process of welding.

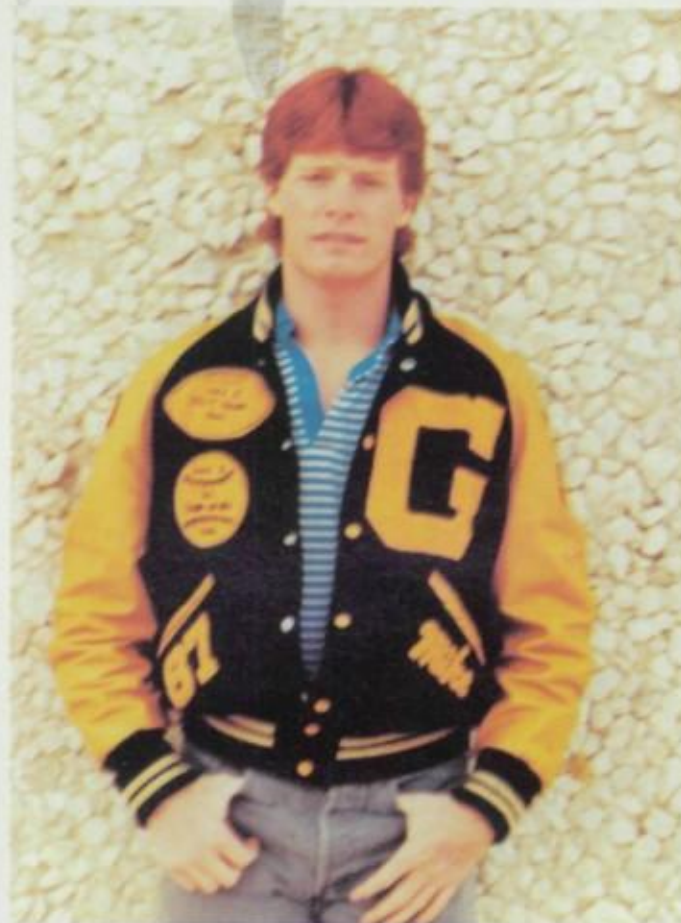

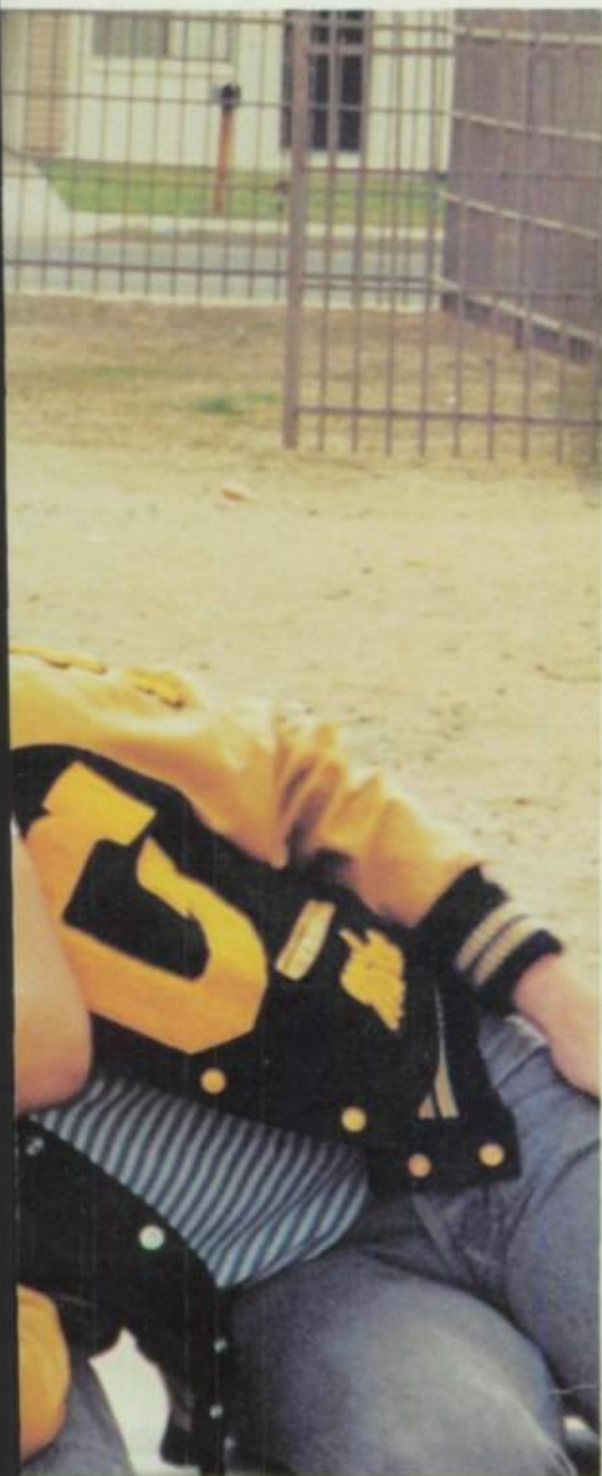

Sr. Craig Hills and Jr. Tricia Graham on their way to class.

Trying to catch some rays at lunch are Seniors Stacey Stephenson, Mike Thornton, and Kim Niebrzydowski.

"Oh come on Mrs. Lowry!", Sr. Scott Co-show was caught saying.

A Final Look!

"After I graduate I want to become a cop!", Senior Mike Thornton stated when asked about his future. Mike was number 56 on the Varsity Football Team and Played center and defensive end. He first played football when he was in the third grade on a Pop Warner Team. He also was number 38 on the Varsity Baseball Team and played left field. He started playing baseball in the second grade on a tee-ball team. "Hopefully my strength from football and baseball will help in becoming a cop, because I want to be able to help people.", Mike replied.

Seniors Mireille Moore, Denny Barney, Mike Ramsire, and Mike Thornton taking it easy at lunch.

Trying to act enthused, while waiting for the bell to ring, are Seniors Kayla Sharp, Shellie Hammon, and Sheri Hastings.

Posing happily for the camera with her birthday present is Sr. Kellie Blaisdell along with a friend, Sr. Janel Woods.

Friend: A person attached

What is a friend? "Somebody you can believe in and who loves you no matter what. "Some one you can rely on." "Someone you can count on and tell your problems to." "A person who has and shows a genuine concern for your well-being." "A person that you can trust all your secrets with. Everybody's definition of a friend differs, but through the years a friend has always been someone you can trust.

1. "You smile Nina," said senior Chandra Riggs.
2. Senior Lanelle Waggerby told junior Nicole Infanti, "Quick! He went that way!"
3. Juniors Enedina Martinez and Sonja Bible pondered why is the grass green.
4. "Peek-a-boo," said Christina Coppolla as she hid behind senior Racquel Amaya's back.
5. Foreign exchange students Song Hansen, Shiuli Subaya and Gabreil Becerec thought, "This is a pep assembly?" (Song Hansen was homesick and returned to Denmark.

to another by respect.

DANCES

1. Senior Tim Allen and Junior Julie Cordon made a night of it.
2. Senior Jessica Ford gave it all she had.

3. Junior Geri Rowe was overwhelmed by the unique styles.

Special moments to remember

Why do people go to dances?

"I go to the dances to have a great time with my friends. It also gives you a chance to meet new people. The music they play is cool and you can really "get down!" Charlotte McDermot, Sophomore

"...I go to dances to be with my friends, and it's fun to watch and see how other people dance!!" Shirley Roberts, Junior

"It's a good place to meet new people and "watch others boogie—Ha!!" Paula Kelly, Senior

In 1966, dances were sock hops in the gym after all home football games. For special dances, they had live bands and wore long dresses and suits, with corsages for all the girls.

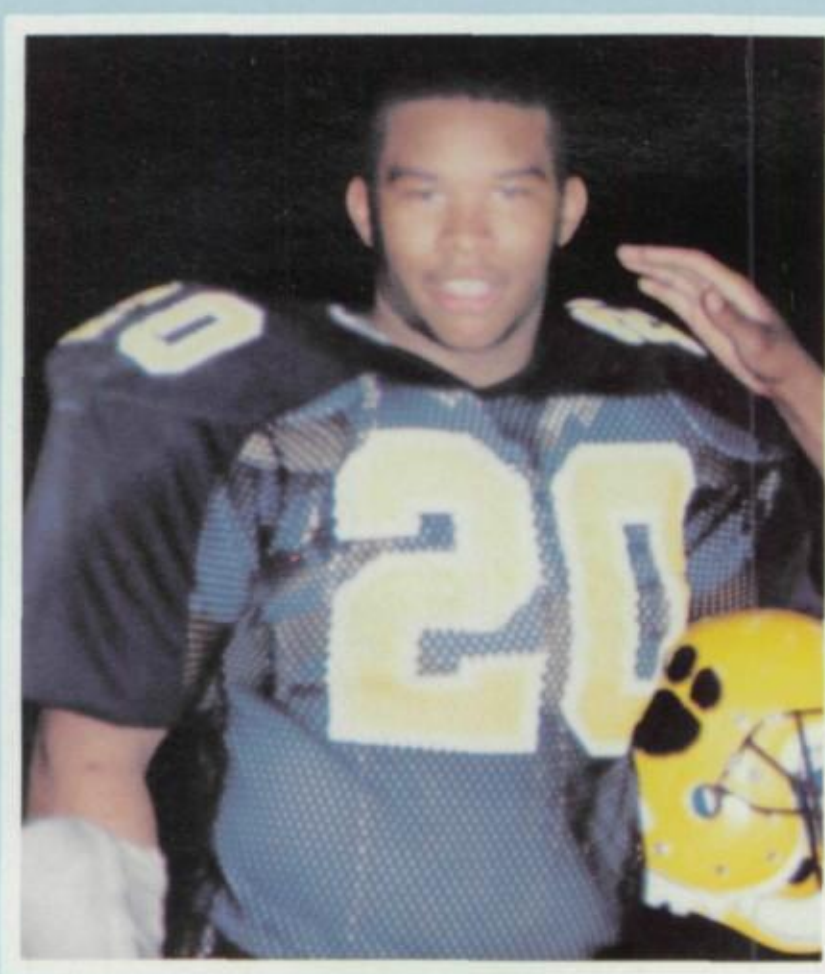

4. Miss Lerma was number one ticket taker at most dances.

5. Senior Rex Gillespie showed everybody his stuff.

6. "Come on ladies, here we are!!" said Grant Smith, Marvin Elkin and Roy Oxford.

7. Senior Lamar Whitehurst: "Hey man! I've got to get ready for the dance!"

IT'S OVER . . .

Mr. Pico appeared to be concerned that the ball made it over the goal line. Friday night football was a Gilbert weekend tradition.

"Don't even take that picture," threatened CIA member Dee Ray to photographer Jamie Ecker. "I need my sleep."

"Wait! Stop! Take our picture," exclaimed Cami Wells and Tracy Watkins (who moved to Tempe High area).

Most students spent their weekends with family and friends or working. Relaxing and sleeping in on Saturday morning was quite common. One could say that weekends were a way to forget schoolwork and all its pressures, but if you were fortunate enough, you enrolled in all the classes that assigned the most homework . . . over the weekend.

Lots of girls, as well as guys could be found at the mall. Shopping was probably one of the better ways to spend a weekend. Or you may have visited relatives, which may not have thrilled you . . . if it didn't, then you could find the comfort you needed on the shoulder of your best friend, which made the weekend special.

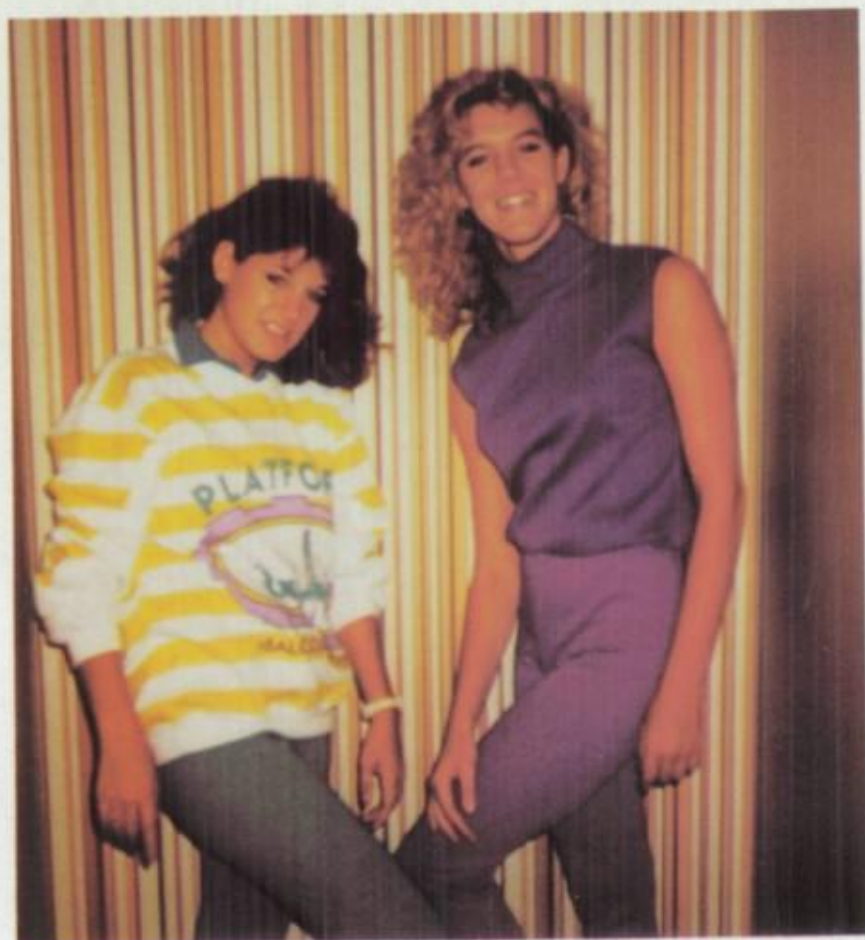

"What food!" exclaimed Fran Gall to her buddy Kristi Allred.

"Yea, it's Friday!!" exclaimed Jeri Gross.

Dreaming of a perfect weekend, Tara, Deanne and Lisa??

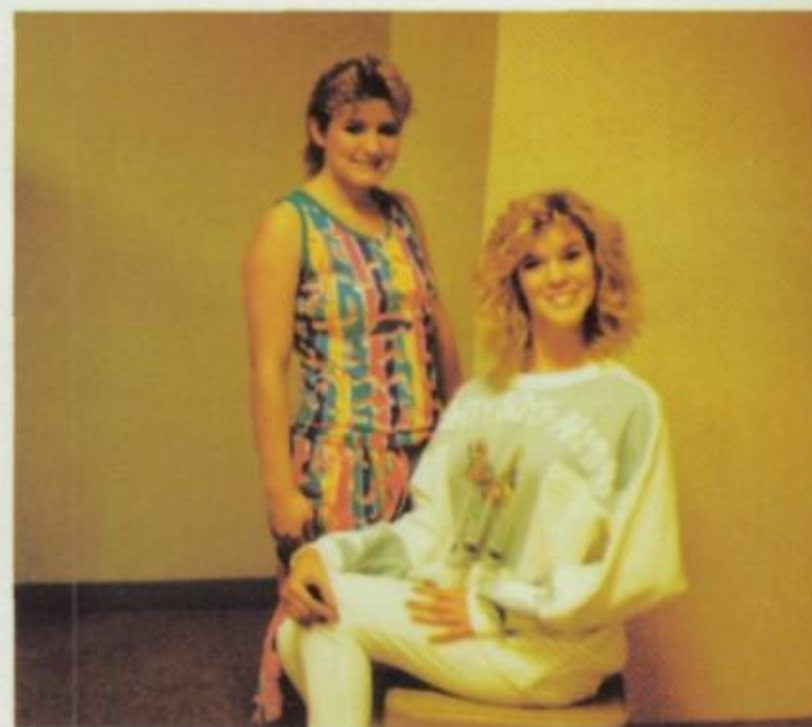

Beware of the attack cat . . . warned Christina Coppola.

Modernize

Fashion, we often ask ourselves, "what is fashion?" To some of us it means buying the most expensive and most updated clothes that we could. To others it's what they see in magazines and on billboards. But Kelley Blaisdel and Karen Liestmans point of view on the subject is that it has a lot to do with your own personality and how you express yourself. Although there are other things to take into consideration, such as money, who your friends are, and the most important your own ideas.

Tonya Roberts, Kelley Blaisdel, Marchel Huffman, and Karen Liestman, display their idea of fashion.

Marchell Huffman, Tonya Roberts, and Karen Liestman ready for a night on the town.

Marchell Huffman, Coni Kinkade, Karen Liestman, and Kelley Blaisdel, loved shopping for clothes.

Karen Liestman, and Coni Kinkade show their excitement in fashion.

Down the Hatch!

What are we gonna eat for lunch?? This was a question asked most every day. Gilbert students had a greater variety of lunch spots than ever before. With all the new places going up in and around Gilbert, students had freedom of choice. Those with transportation got just about anything from pizza at Pizza Hut to an "Earthquake" at Swensens. Those who chose to just stay at school had more than just cafeteria ... there was the new hot dog stand behind the cafeteria; it didn't really sell hot dogs, but it did sell corn dogs, fries, cokes and a few other quickie things. Even with all the new off campus places to eat, students still seemed to prefer the cafeteria overall.

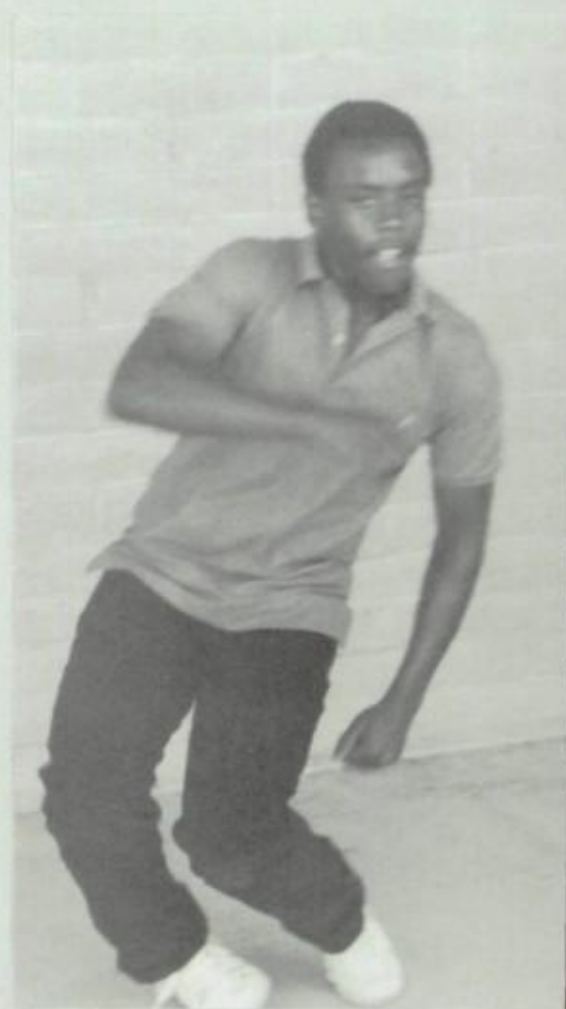

Ummm ... guys, what was this I just ate???

Look at that line!! Does this mean the food is good?

What??

Lunch time recreation; different things to different people.

These three juniors found the best way to spend lunch with good friends: Melissa Bond, Enedina Martinez, Sonja Bible.

Seniors Traci Siciliani and Amy Hayward studied while they munched.

Keep on Rockin

"Well Guess Who's Back In Circulation,"?! was probably the most hoped for statements of the year from one of Rock's most flamboyant characters, "Diamond" David Lee Roth. The break-up of Van Halen was the most controversial subject of the music industry. When the smoke cleared both groups David Lee Roth Band and the "new" Van Halen were found climbing back to the top.

In the hard rock-ing category RATT was "Dancing Undercover" for their third album, "Girls, Girls, Girls" were the main influence to Motley Crue. A new name emerged, Cinderella, with their own version of "Night Songs."

In the rest of the rock world Cyndi Lauper showed her "True Colors" while Madonna had her own "True Blue" times which kept Janet Jackson in "Control." "Lionel Richie started "Dancing on the Ceiling" and "Play Deep" started The Outfield in their own league. In the Christian Rock section, "To Hell With the Devil" was the latest from Stryper, Amy Grant showed her "Amy Grant Collection" and "Back To the Street" went Petra!

After "Invading our Privacy" RATT proved to be at the top with their bluesy RATT & ROLL on "Dancing Undercover."

"Walking on water" described the success of Bon Jovi with "Slippery When Wet."

The bad boys of Rock kept on roll'in with "GIRLS, GIRLS, GIRLS" which showed them to be ladies men, especially with Tommy Lee's marriage to Heather Locklear!

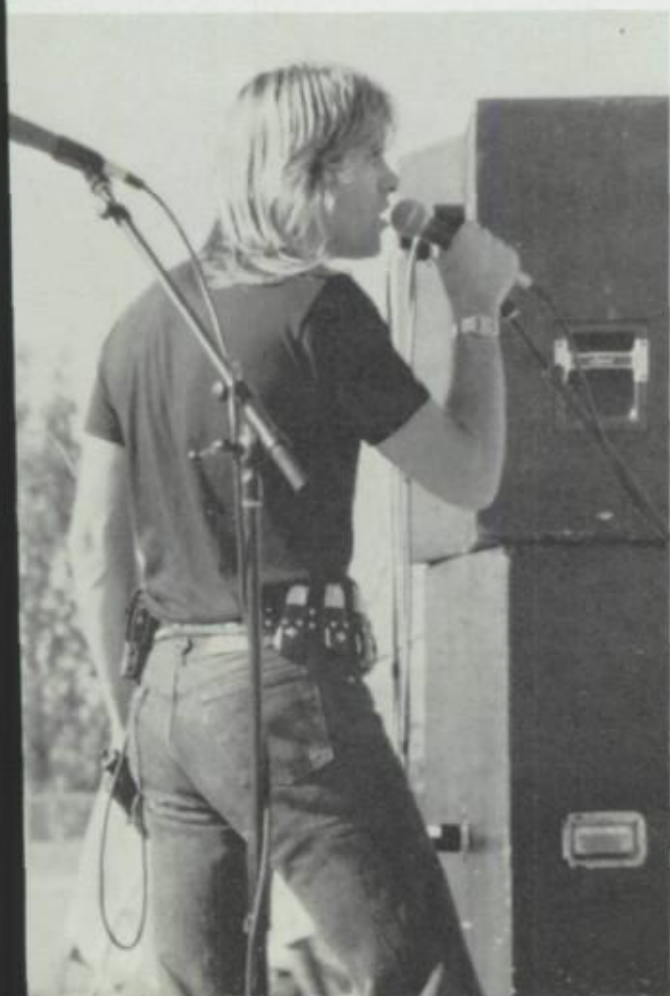

With "Eat 'Em and Smile" Diamond David Lee Roth proved he's back in the saddle and riding higher than ever!!

All the way from California, Christian Rock singer Darryl Mansfield performed at the Oasis Waterpark in Phoenix for an impressive positive style of rock.

Cyndi Lauper's "TRUE COLORS" again showed her unique true self to the world.

The yellow and black attack was back, Stryper, with "TO HELL WITH THE DEVIL."

Future Leaders?

I don't want to go to work today because ...

I'm too tired.

I have mega homework.

I wanted to go out with my friends tonight.

The manager hates me.

I don't feel good.

The list was endless with excuses, but did these sound familiar? Of course they did, because we were all guilty of doing it sometime. Why would we do it? Didn't we know we would get in trouble with our managers, not to mention our parents! Was it because we would get a paycheck every two weeks? This important piece of paper helped to pay for gas, that special date, clothes, lunch and if we had any of it left over, it would become our "play money".

Aren't we forgetting something? Of course! The places we worked like Taco Bell, McDonalds, Burger King, Kentucky Fried Chicken, grocery stores like Basha's, Safeway and Fry's.

Shanie Wells, who worked at Tater Junction said, "I was going to quit, but my boss was going to give me a raise, so I decided not to."

Keep up the good work all you hard working student employees!

"Watch carefully," said Melinda Birch.

"Me work??" laughed a hysterical Sean Harrison.

"I'm warning you, if you take my picture I'll spray you," said an eager Danelle Dalton.

"Now everybody, take notes. This is how you wash a dish," explained Julie Shaw.

All work and no play demonstrated Danelle Dalton and Julie Shaw.

"I think I'm going to be sick," said Debbie Holden.

London Fall Play ... Smash Hit

"This is going to be so easy ... acting in a simple school play ... (no work, party time!) Some students thought this when they first entered the auditorium to audition for "See How They Run," but their feelings soon changed. When they imagined themselves on a stage in front of millions of people, stage fright struck!

Once the actors and actresses had been chosen, the action began. They had to work for 5 ½ weeks ... 3 hours every day, even some lunches!

Sets were painted and put together. Characters learned their parts. It was hard work and a lot of it.

Many people who attended "See How They Run," thought the play was a smash hit. One scene where Penelope Toop (played by Angela Brue) who was screaming hysterically

"No, I'm not the reverend!" pleaded the Corporal Clive Winton to Sergeant Towers.

"SEE HOW THEY RUN!"

Say what?" questioned Penelope Toop.

Reverend Authur Humphrey says, "I'm innocent!"

"Don't move or I shall shoot!" warns the intruder.

terically about being the Reverends wife was humorous. "It was so funny ... some of the characters even forgot their lines!" commented Christine Lavoie.

All in all, everyone enjoyed this London hit. Congratulations all cast members, stage crew, and especially Miss Dean!

Good luck on the future feature presentations!

Movin' Out

Honk! Honk! It's my turn you, you person. Did you ever find yourself saying this? At GHS it was reflected in the number of cars that pulled out of the parking lot every day. Mass confusion was an understatement. Dawn Wisdom, Senior commented, "Trying to get out of our parking lot was a mess! It's a waste of time and most of all, nerve wracking!"

The fun always began when the bell rang to dismiss for home and all those "thousands" of cars MOVED IT OUT!!!!

Angie, piling out of Scott's car.

Sam Reese ... could he be the next Evil Knievel??

Traditional Fiesta

Yee Haw! And they're off and running to the spectacular sight of the parade which attracts Gilbert residents by the ton.

This special yearly event, the weekend before Thanksgiving, originated in 1960 as an Old West Celebration held in December. A few years before, Gilbert held a spring Fiesta, and Gilbert Days as we know it today, with its food booths, rides, parade and souvenirs is the combination of the Spring Fiesta and winter Gilbert Wild West Days.

The parade began early on Saturday morning and included our State Champion Band, floats, Mayor L.J. Reed, Arizona Senator John McCain, and Mayors from other towns. The floats, horses, antique cars and the Firefighter water competitions were all a spectacle to enjoy and remember.

Steve Flores, Scott Mertz, David Bass and Alex Ruvalcaba were amused, but John Phillips and Morgan Fanchini weren't too thrilled about the baby buffalo on campus at lunch for Gilbert Days.

Tired of performing for students at lunch, Louis's horse took a short break.

Not a real big lunch crowd for the animal show ...

Louis Thurman rode "into the sunset".

"Behave, people are watching!" Gilbert Days pony decides to eat lunch at the high school, after all it's lunch time.

A Campus Farewell . . .

. . . or is it?

Did you know that . . .

1. This campus is on the site of the old Gilbert airport?
2. The baseball field used to be a bird preserve?
3. The office used to have windows with a pay phone and a soda machine outside the door before an arson fire in 1977?
4. There are 300 parking spaces with over 500 automobiles on campus?

Seventy years ago, less than one-hundred students attended the "old" Gilbert High School. When news came that there would be a new school, a lot of people were not excited. But among the disappointed there were those who were anxious to broaden their horizons.

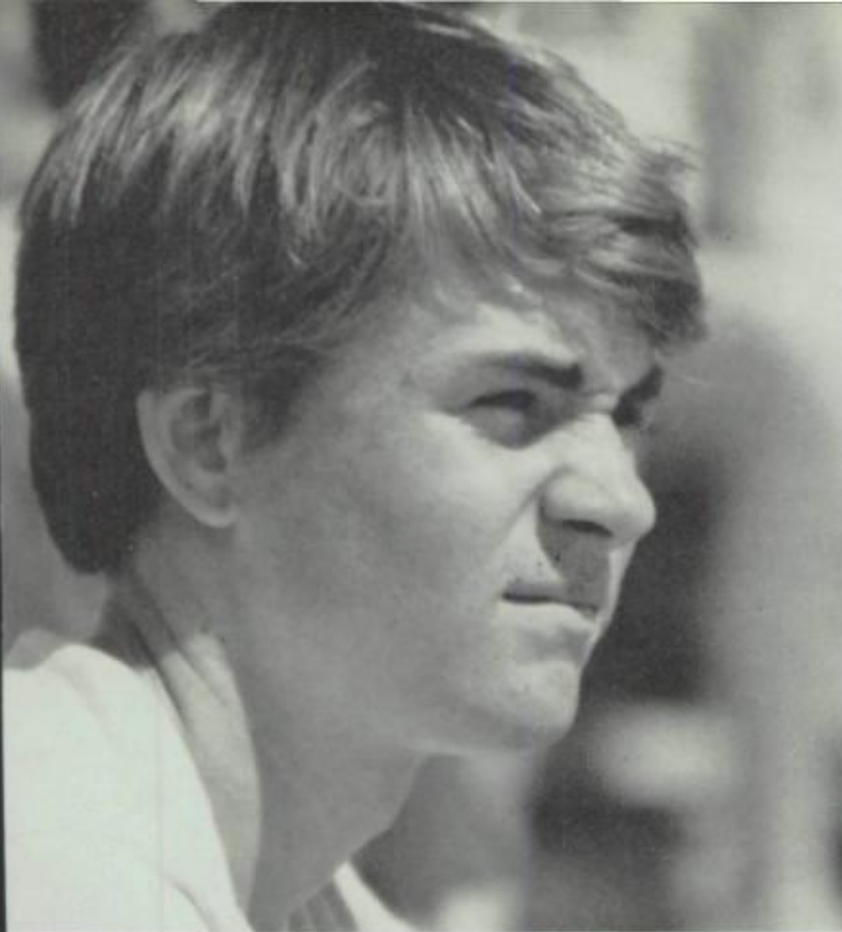

The present school site quickly developed traditions like state championships in events such as band and football. It even experienced tragedies such as the loss of lives of many fellow students. But the schools spirit has helped us students to overcome these losses to a point where we could keep fighting to be #1!

Well the time has come to move to another school. It may take some time to adjust to the new campus and to start new traditions, good and bad. But we will try to keep our school on top! So is it good-bye? Maybe to the campus but not to the spirit and many memories that came out of it, which are enough to last a lifetime or two!

Thanks G.H.S.

Matt Renyolds and friends show their farewell greetings.

Farewell

Who needs dental work with a smile like this? (Junior Ron Wells)

This was the place to gather and socialize with friends in between classes ... until they put in a fence!!

What would we do without this lunch area, wondered Melissa Bond and Sonja Bible.

And this is supposed to be done in the fall of '87??

In Memory Of

Buffy White

On January 17, 1985 a tragic accident claimed the life of G.H.S. student Buffy Cozett White. She was born on August 11, 1969 in Fallon, Nevada. Her funeral services were held on January 21, 1985 at 2:00 P.M. A lot of her friends and acquaintances attended to show their love for her. Her favorite class was dance, and she talked of taking advanced dance in her Junior year. She was very helpful in teaching others steps when they were having a hard time. That's a big reason why everyone loved her because, she was such a helpful and cheerful friend. BUFFY WE LOVE YOU!

Last Generation- SENIORS

Once upon a time long, long ago in the little town of Gilbert, there was a High School. It was in the middle of summer; four young people were very excited and anxiously waited in anticipation, for tonight would be the first graduation ever held at Gilbert High School.

Seventy years later the 1987 Senior Class of 367 students was the last class to graduate from the Gilbert High School campus which was once the Gilbert Airport. Over those seventy years, Gilbert's population had increased so rapidly, it was necessary to build a larger school, so plans were made and work began in May, 1985.

It was our last year of high school, and we were the Last Generation, the last class to graduate at the current campus; but the outstanding reputation of Gilbert High School would continue, just at a bigger and better place.

Moving Up

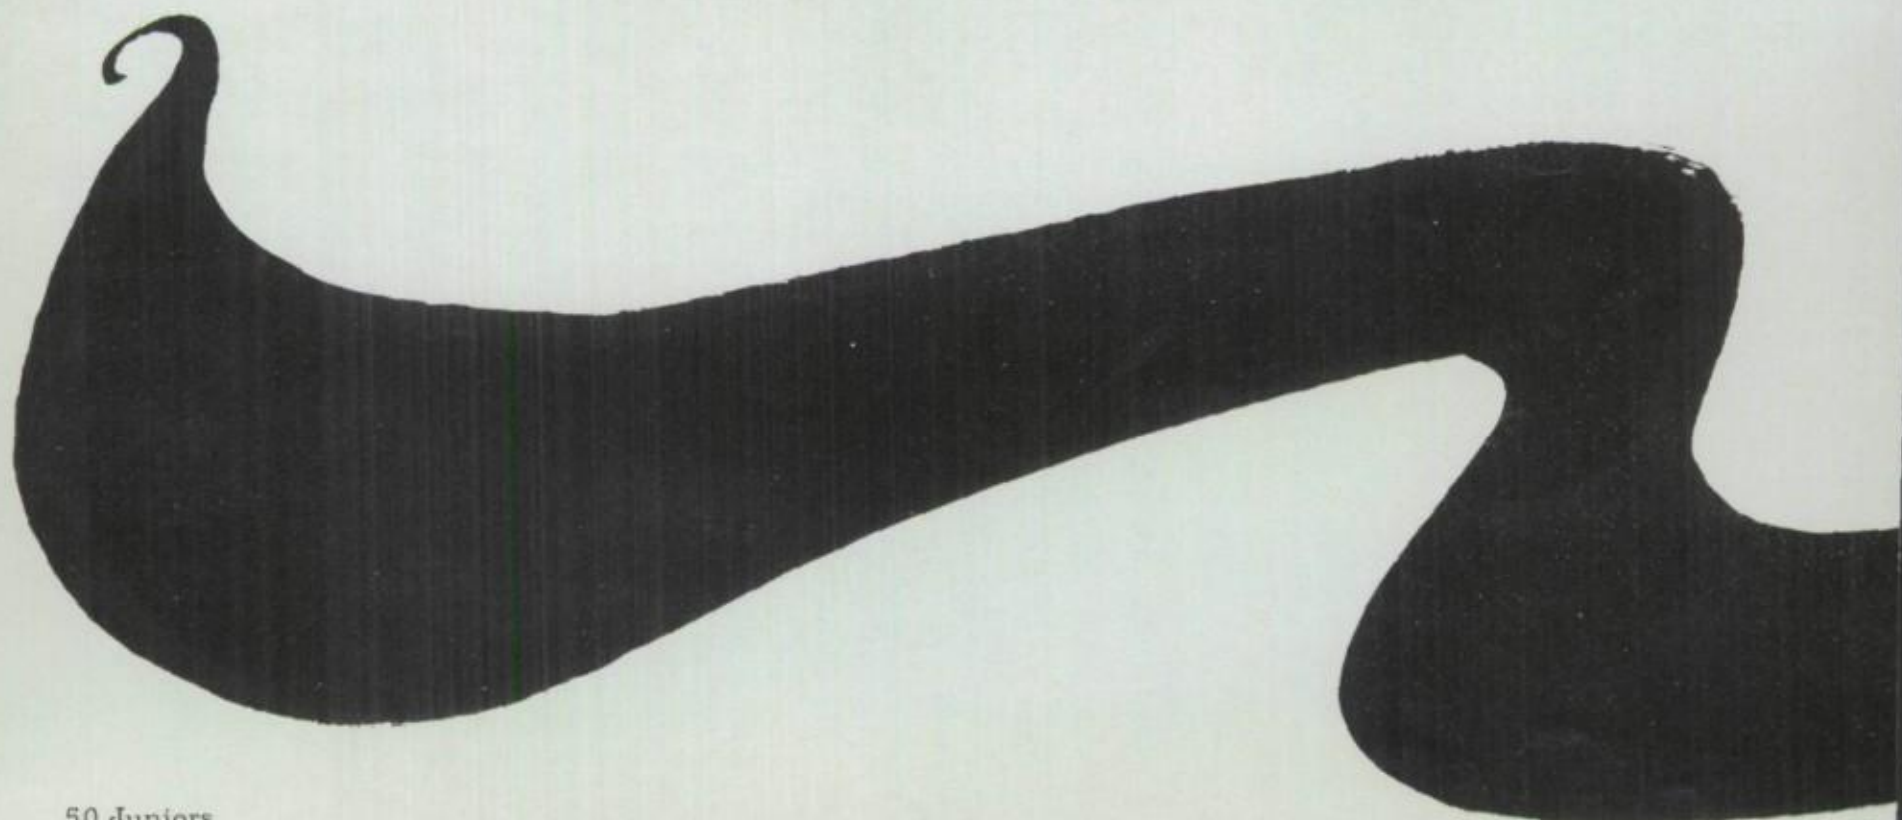

This true Gilbert High School student was not at all bothered by showing the rest of the school her spirit and her pride.

Juniors have a new look at their school; they love it even more than ever. They were excited about getting through this year, since they are to be the first class to graduate from our new high school on Elliott Rd.

"We're burning our brain cells more than ever, but it's a lot of fun, explained Junior, Debbie Holden.

Exactly 37 years ago there were 29 Juniors attending Gilbert High School, and in the fall of 1986 there were 400 Juniors. Now that's growing!! One thing that hadn't changed was the Juniors still giving school their best.

Hope it was a great year Juniors!

Denise Repan, going for it all, without a doubt.

"It's not as it seems to be," was Tara Jones immediate response. Modeling was very hard work and required alot of training in a variety of areas, such as poise, make-up, hair styling, fashion awareness, proper diet and exercise. You had to be very dedicated to be successful. It also meant early to bed, cutting down on the junk food, "which I thrive on," added Tara.

Sometimes it's real hard to forgo a Friday night out because I had an early photo shoot. Most of all you had to be able to accept rejection with a smile because the competition was very tough.

Since the age of 10, Tara had trained and modeled with many different agencies, such as Talent Coorinators and Sincerely Sandra and was currently associated with L'image Casablancas.

"I hope to someday be a professional model," Tara concluded hopefully.

Juniors Rolling Along

Who was this all around athletic guy? None other than Junior Matt Amos. Matt played defensive end and flanker back on the Junior Varsity Football Team. It wasn't too surprising to find Matt out on the town with his friends Troy Skipper, Marc Chesley, Mike Howell, and Marc Mc Dowell. "My favorite music is Rock-N-Roll," Matt said. He could have been found listening to his favorite groups AC DC, Scorpions, and Van Halen.

Say cheese . . .

These words may be some of the most spoken of Jamie Ecker, a junior whose first year at Gilbert High has been more than photogenic. She is the one usually found behind the camera at sports events, dances, and most school activities. She took many photography classes at her old school, Dobson High, ranging from beginning to advanced photography. Jamie has also been hired by private individuals to make portfolios. Jamie would like to make a career out of photography, and the entire yearbook staff knows she can do it!

"It's a great idea; and a lot more guys shouldn't be afraid to show what they feel." said Ken Graves. That's exactly what a spirited Sean Harrison did when he tried out for cheerleading, overcoming many obstacles.

Sean became interested in cheer when he saw college co-ed teams on T.V. and in competition. He wanted to do something different, but he didn't know how the "guys" would react. He did get harassed quite a few times, but his "true" friends were there to support him through it all!

At first Sean didn't think that the girls would accept him, but they did wholeheartedly! We were all proud of you Sean!

What is a Raukus? It's not what it is, it's who is Raukus? Raukus is a four member band in which Ray Obolewicz is the lead vocalist. His band started in Decmeber 1985. They have played at Bootlegger and The Mason Jar in Phoenix, they also performed an anti-drug concert at Mesa Amphitheater in December 1986. In the future he hopes to broaden the musical interest of everyone by entering a new dimension of musical sight and sound. He would also like to attend a professional Commercial Design School.

Jamie Ball impersonated the Amazing Spider Woman.

Ray Obolewicz was all dressed up with no where to go

Clay Morrison was intrigued by the game.

Juniors Amy Jarvis, Camie Wells and Tracy Woodhouse enjoyed the game.

Jason Gonzales persuaded an unknown friend to buy him lunch.

Never Ending Story . . .

Who had the biggest increasing body size of every, man, woman or both? If you thought it was Orson Wells or the fabulous "Mr. Picasso" on MTV, you're way off!

With the fast pace of school growth, Sophomores have led the pack. In 1949, there were a mere 29 Sophomores. Thirteen years later, there was an increase to 65 Sophomores, one of the first signs of a rapid growth district.

At last count there was an astonishing 465 Sophomores attending for the "final farewell" to the old high school.

It was said that we learn from the past to plan for the future, so if the Sophomore segment of the student body keeps swelling as in the past, maybe a "new-er" school would have to be built . . . such as "Squashmore High?!"

Sophomore Jason Creary moved right on down the "student lunch line" . . . in other words, he was a good moocher!!

"For all you rebels out there, don't be afraid to show your talent," said Dan Brown. You would definitely recognize this charmer if you saw him because of his wild personality, but he will calm down.

If you ever get the chance to hear him sing, listen. If you can get him to admit that he sings at all, he'll say he is bad, but ignore him. He's lying.

When asked if he wants to take up a career in singing, Dan replied, "I guess. I don't really know. I'm a rebel. Just kidding, Mom," he smiled and said.

When asked about singing in front of large groups of people, he proudly commented, "I love it."

EVER INCREASING

What makes Titia Hatch special? Her interests are out of the ordinary, and she has many talents that accompany her glowing personality. When Titia graduates, she plans to go on to EAC and pursue a career in the field of secretarial work. She hopes to attend only 2 years and then find her knight in shining armor to take her away and marry her. Titia would like to move to Australia, because of the green grass and beautiful breeze. She also wants her knight to build her a two-story dream castle. Titia wants to have 6 or 7 kids, and name them in the same fashion that her mother named her and her 8 other brothers and sisters. I wish you all the luck in the world Titia!!

"I think the new high school is going to be cool, but I still feel the freshmen should go to the junior high," Sophomore Karrie Krui-zena was quoted saying.

With a very busy schedule, besides school, Karrie was involved in J.V. Volleyball, Basketball, Softball, and still found enough time to herself. "On weekends I like to go out with my friends and have a good time ... all the time!"

After high school Karrie sees herself and best friend, Heidi Meder, cruising all over in her very much wanted red Chevy 4x4, amping out to such favorites as Pink Floyd and Led Zeppelin. Karrie also wants to become a Chemical Engineer, get married but not have kids ... at least for awhile!

"It's hard being a sophomore, because you're too young to do some things and too old to do others," remarked Viki Bates, who was a 15 year-old sophomore. Viki, spent most of her free time attending football games or watching guys. Viki, also enjoyed spending time with her best friend Susetta Cluff, who was rarely ever away from her. Some of Viki's favorites were pizza and Modern music. Viki considered herself a typical sophomore.

"You caught me red handed," said Viki Bates.

Modeling Away

If you haven't already guessed ... yes, this gorgeous guy is a model! He had taken up modeling at age 17 in 1986. He was only in it for a short time but, intended to make a future out of it. He said he enjoyed it alot. Working two-three hours in a row didn't bother this ambitious young male.

Arthur Douglas was an outgoing and very friendly sophomore.

The Sophomores that stand out

Being at the bottom of the totem pole wasn't always easy.

"It's twice as hard to get people to notice you," said Sophomore Viki Bates.

Waiting two years just to be noticed seemed to be almost too much to ask, but not all Sophomores were "invisible". Sophomores remembered that they were the future upper classmen and knew that their time would come.

Jammin in history are sophomores Jeff Hallaway, Michelle Whitting and Viki Bates sophomores on there way to the game in Gerard.

A not so suprising look from sophomore David Rawcliffe after lunch.

Hey History isn't so boring with my walkman says Jeff Hallaway.

Sterling Burke, sophomore, contemplating life in Science.

Teachers: Ohh, so much class!

French fries and gravy doesn't sound too appealing, does it, but when Trish Euen was in high school, that was one of her favorite foods!

It's hard to imagine your business teacher wildly cruising. Euen admits that she was screaming and yelling out of car windows back then, just like some teenagers do today.

Being a typical outdoorsy type of person, Mrs. Euen enjoys skiing, running, swimming and gardening. She has also flown a small airplane and gotten hopelessly lost in the desert.

When asked her opinion of the the 1986-87 students, she said, "Most of them are fun people once you get to know them."

She IS annoyed by students who don't pick up after themselves and by students who give crazy, wild excuses she knows couldn't possibly be true, though.

Even though she has only taught at G.H.S. for a year, Euen said she'd miss this campus' "rustic" atmosphere next year when she moves to the Elliott Rd. Campus.

Mrs. Euen is one of the "newcomers" to the schools, but she is definitely already well known.

Gilbert High was very sorry to have to say goodbye to one of its teachers only weeks after school began. Mrs. Gretchen Boyer, an art teacher for seven years at G.H.S., left here at the end of October to work for the State Department of Education in Art Curriculum Development. She had spent much time developing art curriculum for kindergarten through 12th grades in Gilbert.

Boyer was highly thought of and respected by fellow teachers and students.

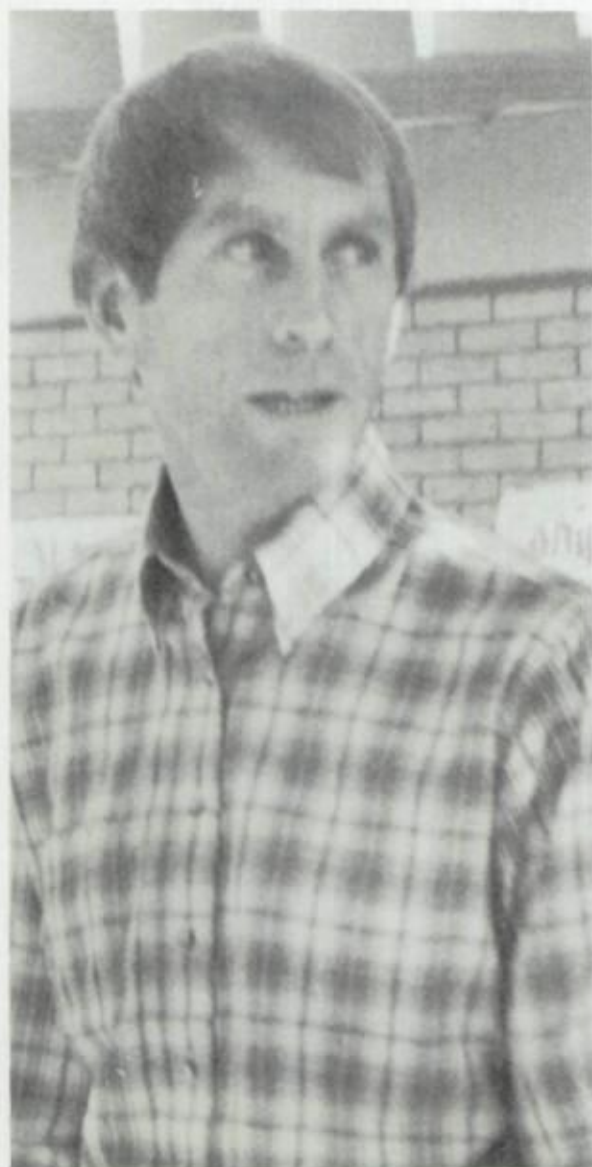

"We'll miss her," said Tina Reh, and Monique Grimmert, Art Club

President agreed. "We shouldn't have to change teachers in the middle of the year," she continued. "It's too hard!"

Mrs. Boyer agreed that it was a real change to drive into downtown Phoenix. The first day it took an hour and twenty minutes!! She also thought it was quite a change not to be supervising 120 students all day. Instead, she is writing curriculum and visiting various schools. She commented that it was a lot quieter there!!

All of us who knew you, miss you very much. G.B.!!

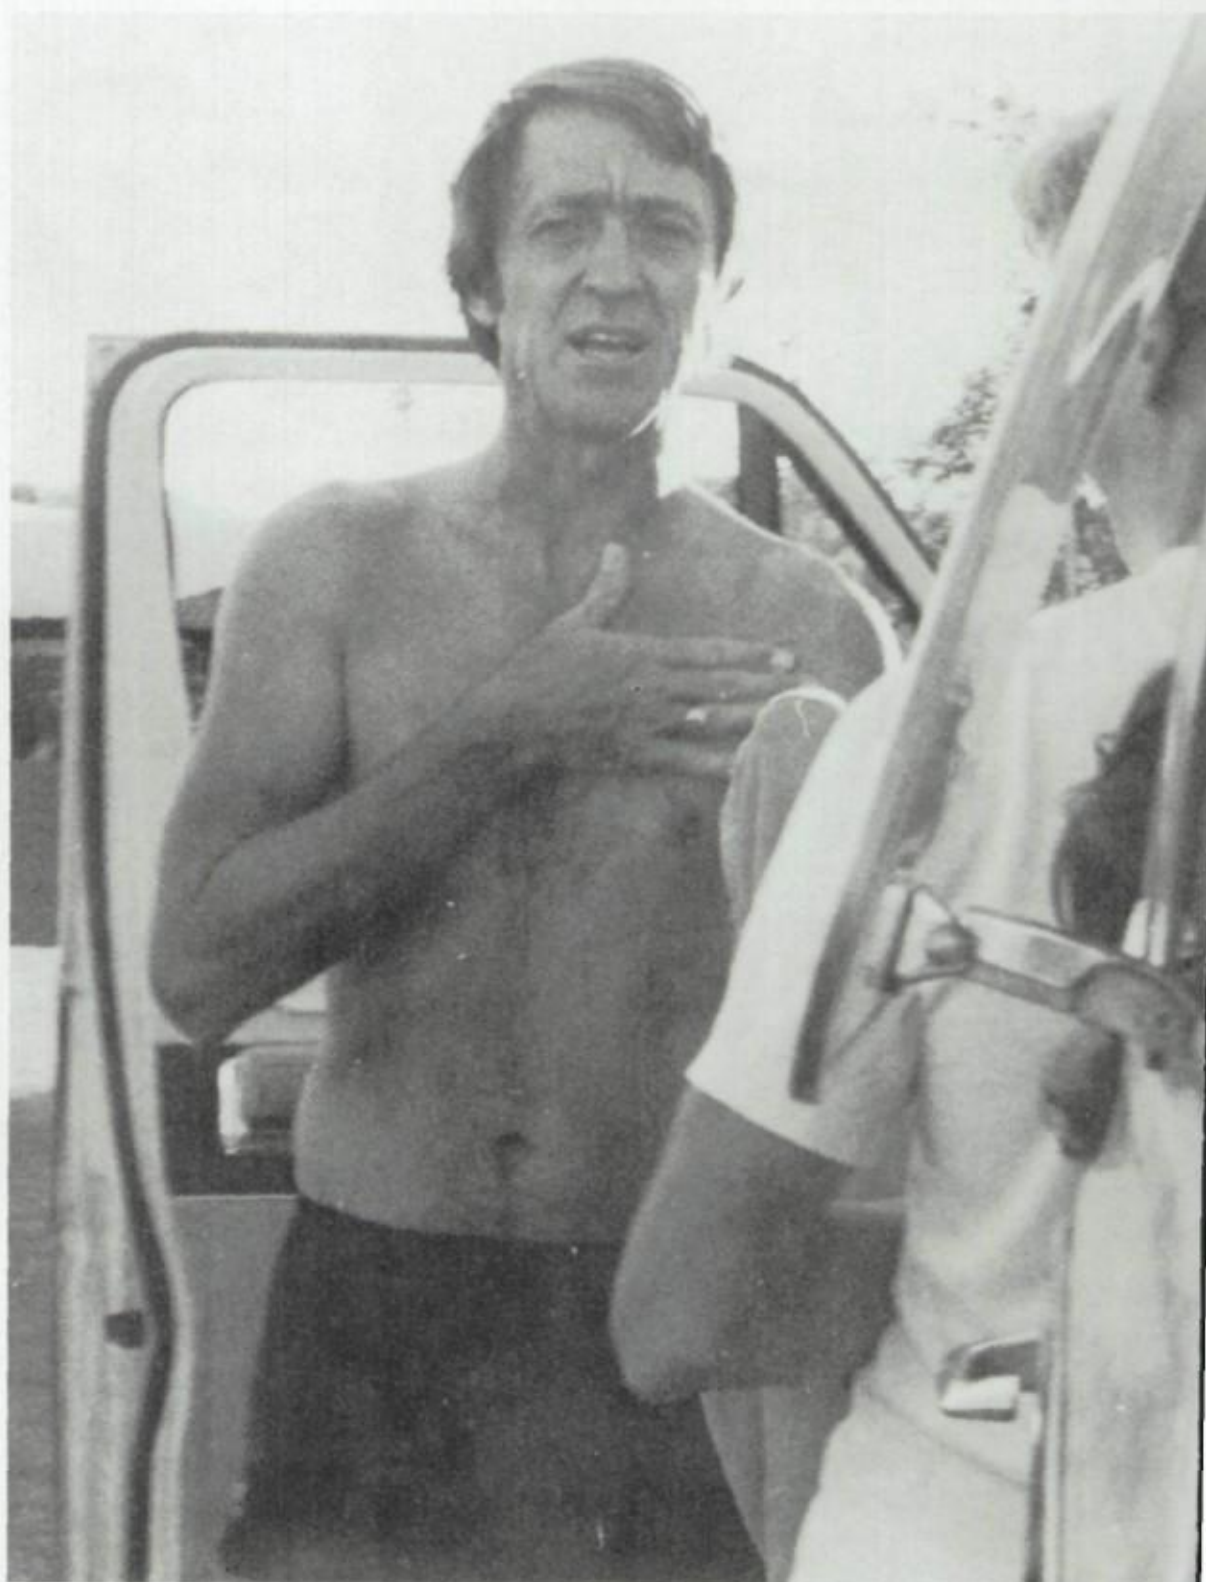

Mr. Lillard Cruising Central?

Mr. Morton thought, "And you're a Senior?"

Mr. Lillard wiped the sweat off after a job around Fountain Hills.

Mr. Hornbeck came to the Art room to smile for the camera one more time!!

You bet he cruised Central when he was in high school. Mr. Lillard is a man of many talents and interests. He loves to watch the Olympics, baseball and football, but of course, his very favorite thing to do is to run. He is the Boys Cross Country team's coach.

Not only is Mr. Lillard a sportsman, he is as we Seniors well know, an Economics teacher and has been teaching at Gilbert High School for twelve years. He decided to teach economics because he likes it. He believes that the problem with the U.S. economy is the deficit.

When asked what he likes most about the Senior Class of 1987 he replied, "They are all very social, and there are no real mean kids." Well, let's hear it for Mr. Lillard! He likes us.

Thank you, Mr. Lillard, for your patience and your firmness. Without you our school wouldn't be complete.

Up Up with Teachers . . .

Teachers get put down a lot, in movies and on T.V. but, hey teachers are people too. Just ask any member of the faculty. We've all done something crude and rude to our teachers, but not as bad as the year 1949 when the students hung their Biology teacher out the second story window, in the old high school building by his feet. The poor teacher retired shortly after that.

There are some teachers that have been here since there ever was a high school, (Like Mr. Simkins, Everett, or Savage?) Can you even imagine going to this school and then coming back to teach? Well some teachers have done just that. They probably even taught our parents for all we know! Through these years we've grown to love every one of them. (And thanks for all the things you've done for us.)

So unless you get to know one of your teachers and find out the answers to these questions yourself, don't put teachers down; they're only human. (And sometimes they're pretty cool.)!!

Sue Smith, a true tiger fan looks absolutely gorgeous in black and gold.

Mrs. Savage enjoys giving out grades. Do you see that smile, kids?

Mr. Simkins, yes, that man who teaches history, has been doing just that since 1965. He works hard at teaching and though history is usually complicated, Mr. Simkins has made it much easier to understand. Mr. Simkins was writing a book about the Salt River Valley, and it's something for all of us to be proud of. He also got his Doctorate last year. He said he'll miss this campus, when thinking of the new one on Elliott Road, because he won't be able to walk to and from school.

Modernizing Times

GROWING WITH CHANGES

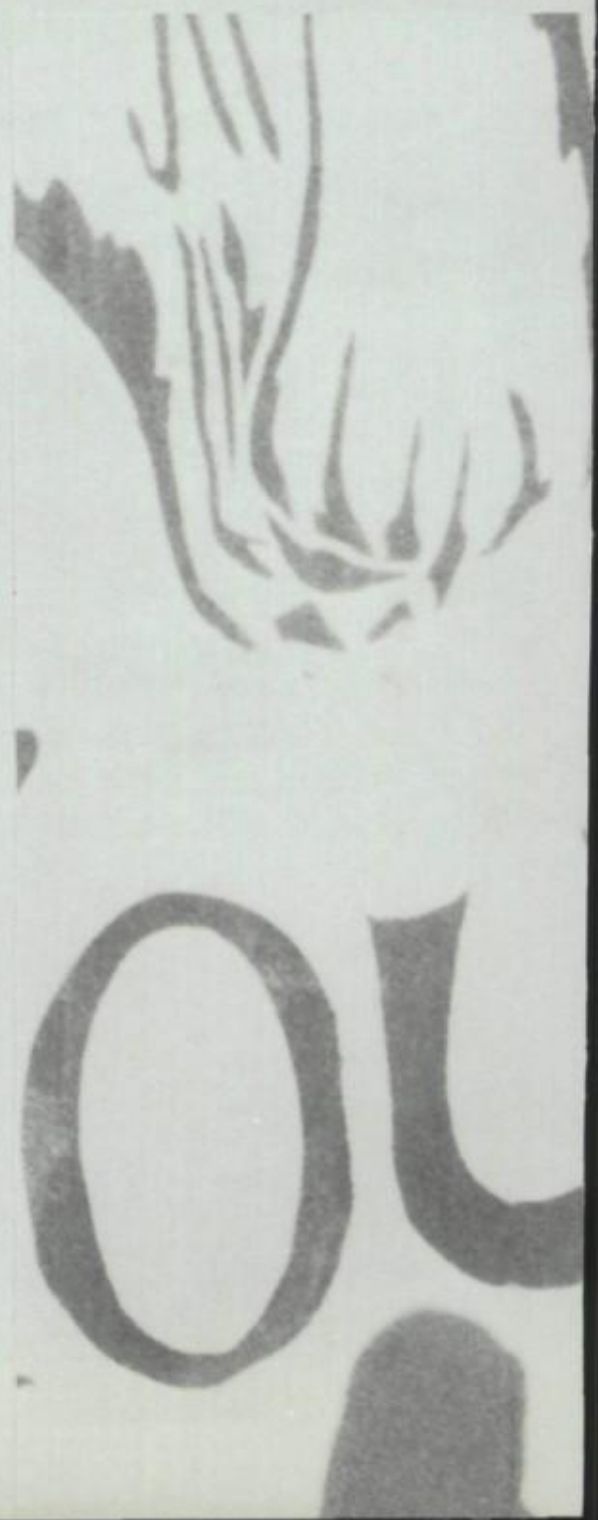

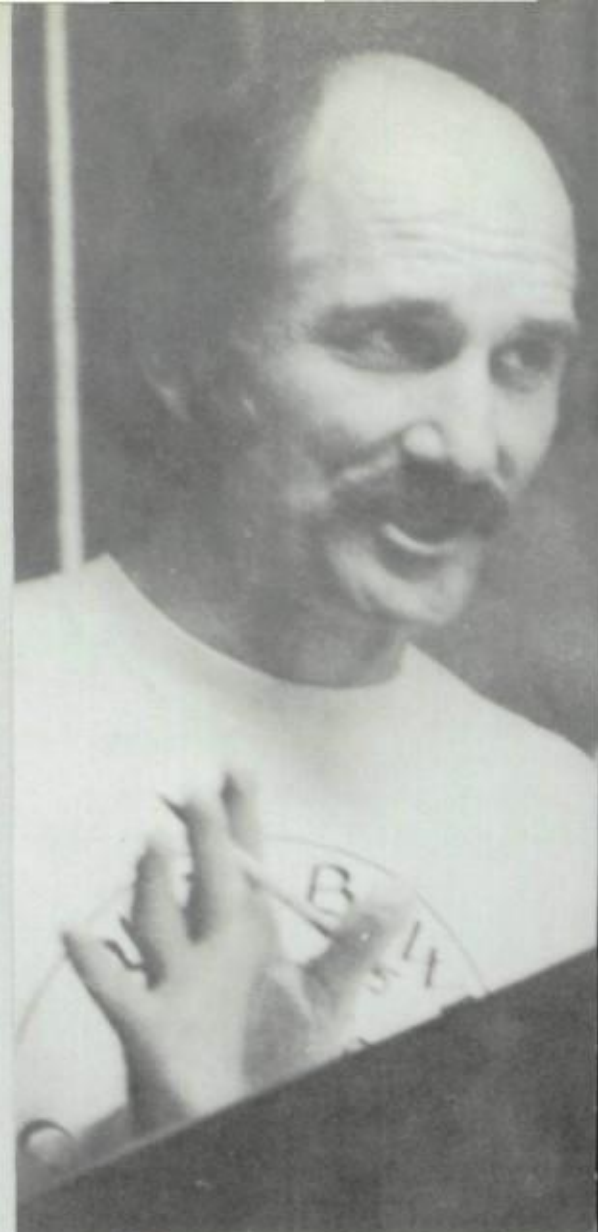

Education is a complex word. Many people have many different definitions of "education." It can be defined as "the learning you receive in school," "the learning you receive outside of the classroom," or even "the learning received from growing up with the society."

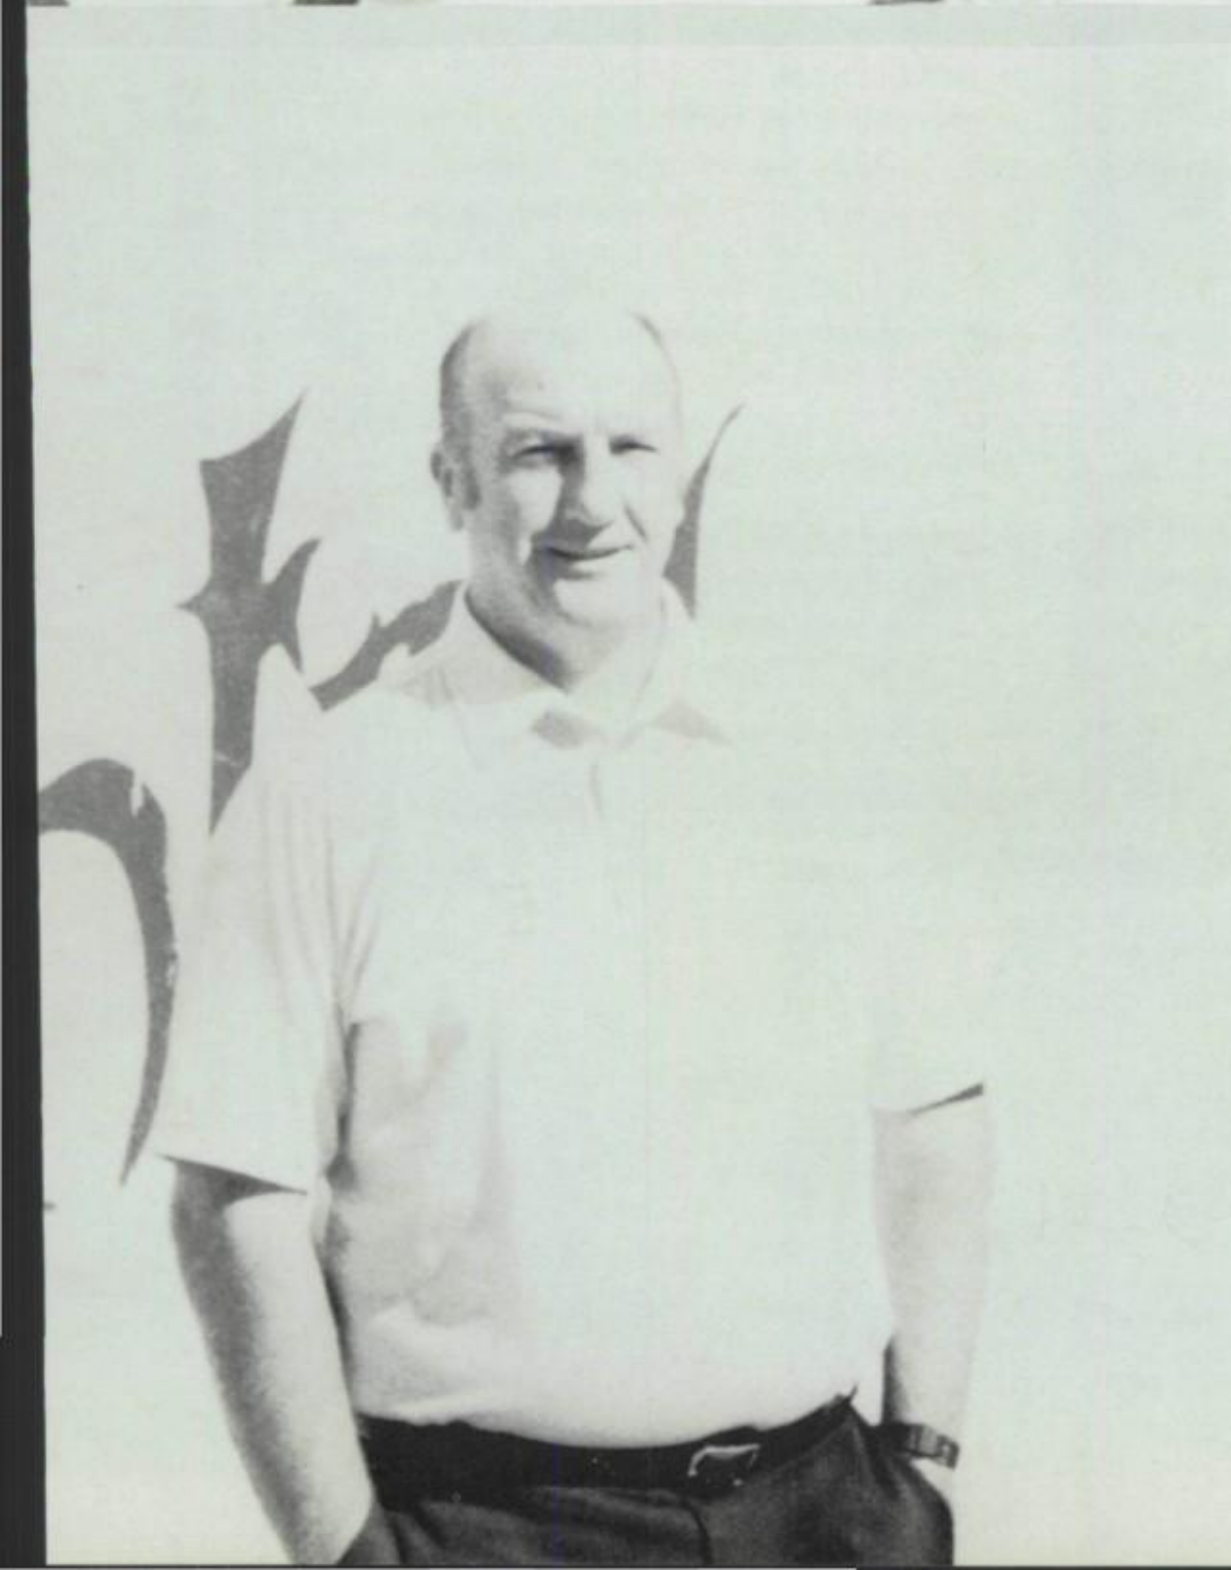

Long ago, education was thought of as something only few people could obtain. When times were hard and school staffs were minimal, those people which were able to receive an education, were thought to be fortunate.

Now-a-days, education is easier to obtain but is thought of with less desire. Many kids grow up with their parents reminding them time and time again just how important an education is and how hard it use to be in the "old days." Kids, teenagers in general, get bored with the homework, rules, and bells easily because they have always had to deal with them. They never knew what it was like to have to work to help out the family's financial problems instead of going to school, doing homework, and going out with friends.

Teenagers seem to think that the way life is now is a lot tougher than the way it used to be. Times have changed, but things have also gotten a lot easier. An education is something that is earned, not something that is given. Education is also more accessible now, but is also more demanding because to achieve any success, determination is needed.

Travis Cooley showed Mrs. Edgmon the technique of computers while she looks away, bored.

A surprised Mr. Thiele tried desperately to avoid his picture taking.

Mr. Loyden stopped to say, "Sure I'll pose."

Mr. Chavez tried to think of something else to say before the bell rang, but couldn't!!

Mr. Becker grinned evilly when he thought of all the kids locked up in room E-4.

hat kind of school spirit did students show in the '50's? Girls wore dresses every day.

"They didn't have 'dress-up days' during Spirit Week; they had dress-down days," reminisced Bob Everett. "There were days such as Western Day and pants day to give the girls a break," Everett added.

Kids today dress up instead of down. We wore pants almost every day, so we took a day out to wear nicer clothes together. Halloween wasn't celebrated in the 50's as it was in 1986, with costumes and haunted houses and neither were their Toga Days.

The magician (Lyell Robenson) holding his Halloween rabbit (Patie Smith) captive.

Updating N.H.S.

National Honor Society had 43 members at the Gilbert Chapter. How did students go about being in N.H.S? Membership was based on scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

The special night for the induction was held on October 28, in the high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Anthony Campos, president of N.H.S., opened services with a warm welcome to Lynn Hancock, Dr. Riley, and Dr. Delecki, with various society officers discussing scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

A reception was held in the library for the new members and their families following the services. We shouldn't forget Mrs. SueLyn Smith, Advisor of N.H.S., who put together a very smooth ceremony.

Marlo Mannies, Michelle Mauter, Shannon Oakes, and Lori Obermeir, wait anxiously to receive their certificates of high achievement.

It will be alright Lisa (Fraley), comforted Larry Simkins, and Dr. Riley.

Angie Xochihua was one of the many proud N.H.S. inductees! Congratulations!

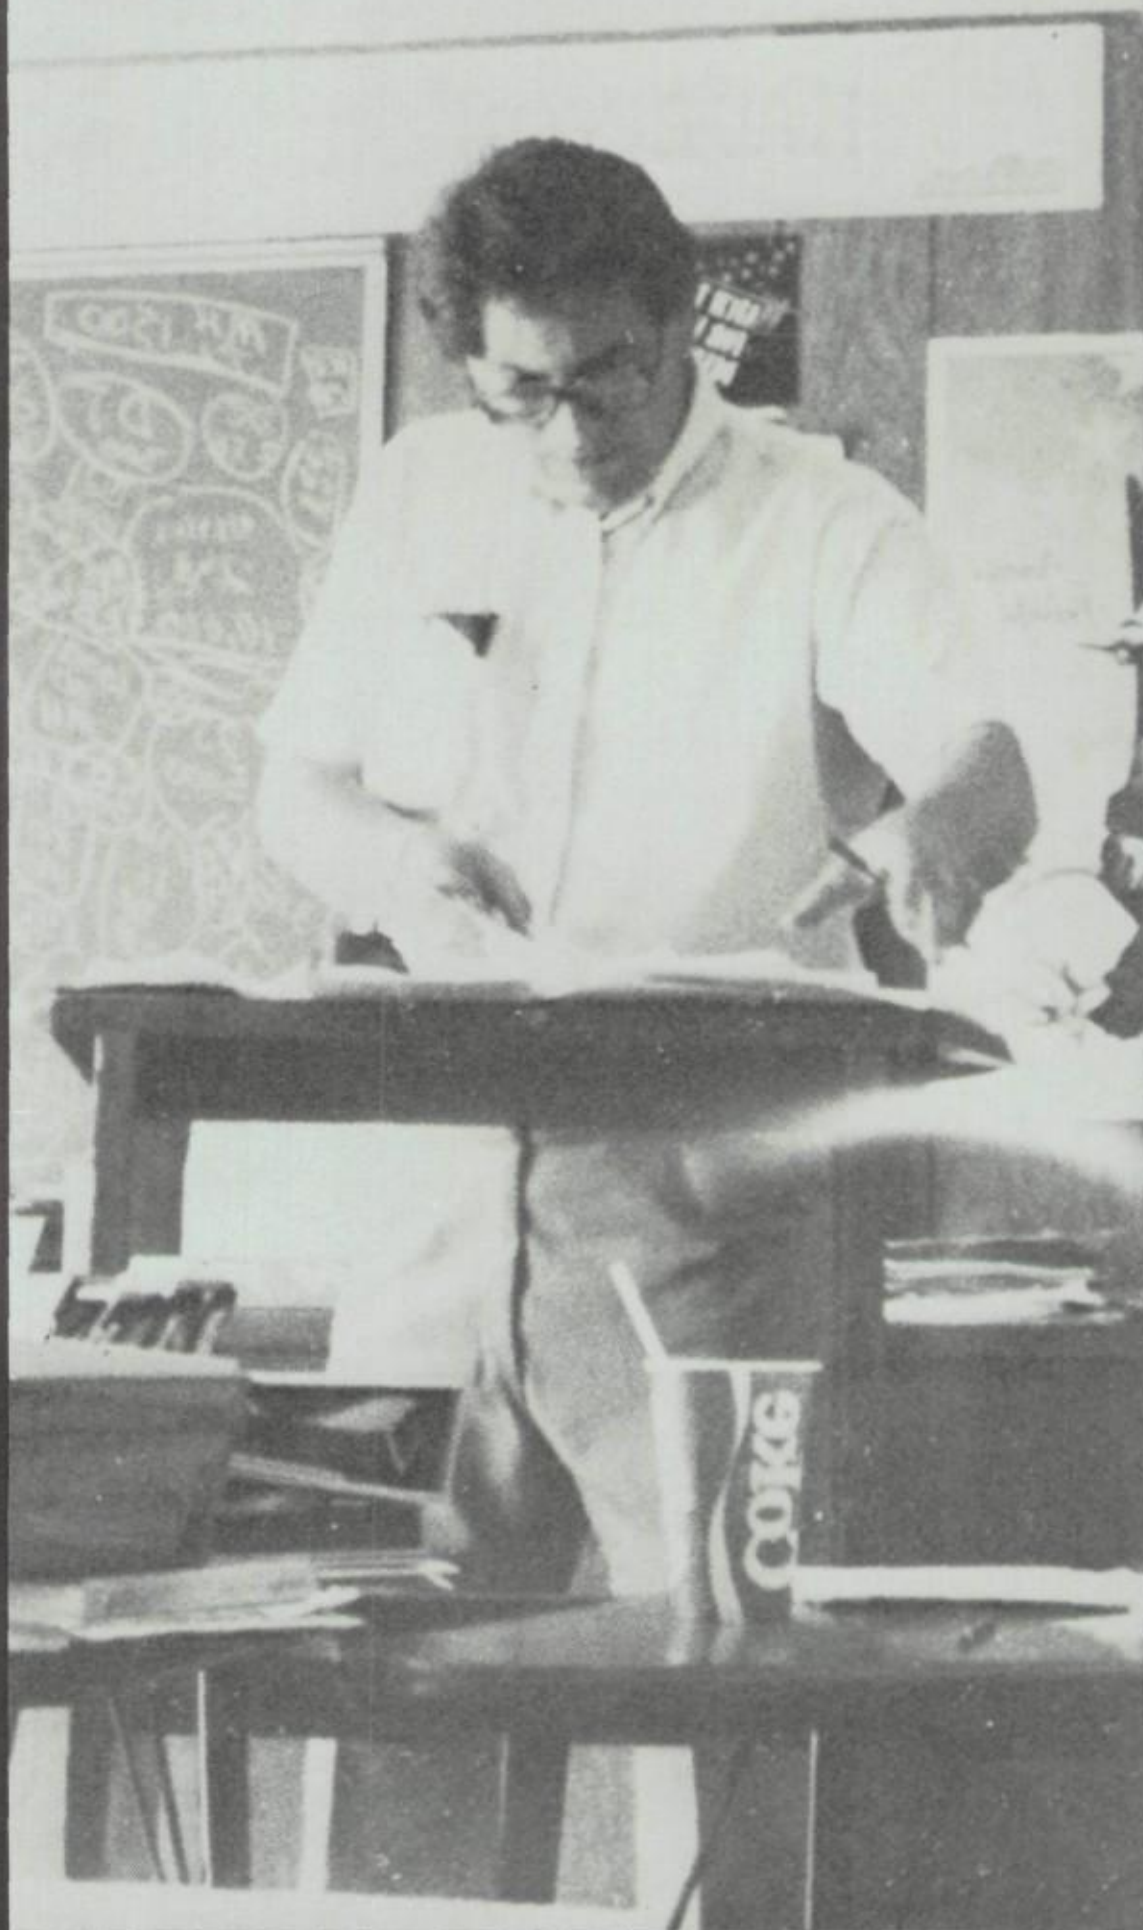

CLASS OF WONDER

Pace is a program which seeks to restore lost or replaced skills among students who have either had difficulty in their high school classwork or have dropped out of high school. These students range from 16 to 20 years of age. There were thirty students which had enrolled into the program. Mr. Chavez, the teacher of Pace taught 24 subjects with apple computers and text books. The students had to sign a contract with Mr. Chavez and their parents to enroll into the program.

President, Chris Williams, asks, "Where is my floppy disk?"

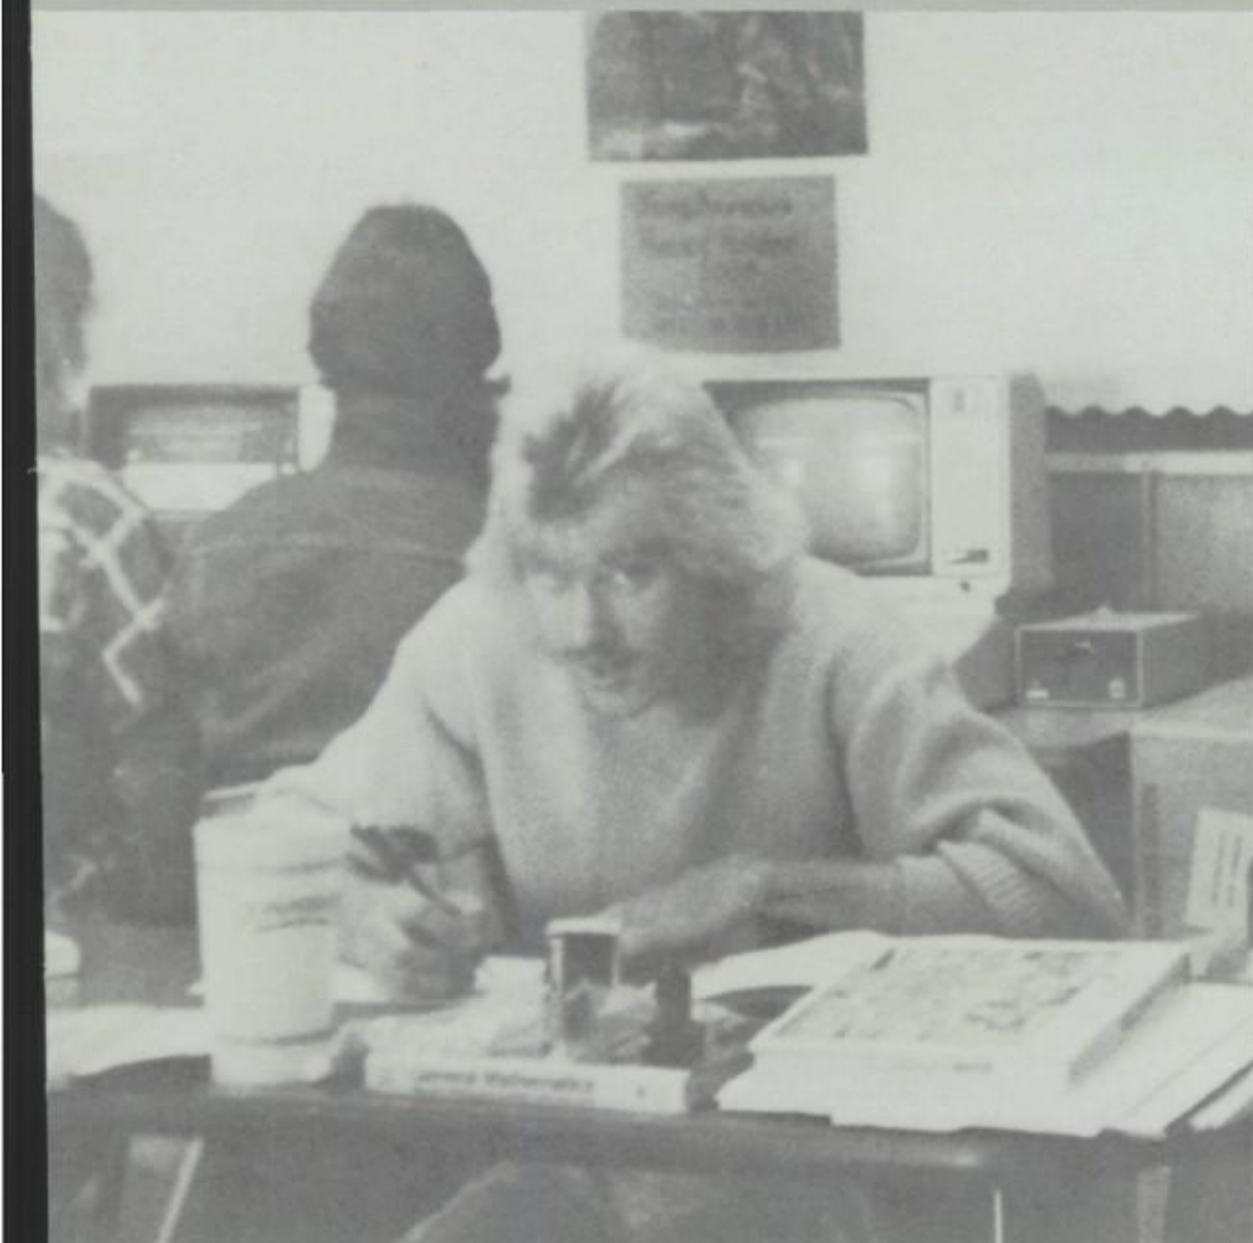

Mr. Chavez, "I can't believe these grades."

Tracy Althouse, "What do all these numbers mean?"

Top Row L to R; Luanne Groves, Al Spangler, Mark Henerson, Chris Williams, Keith Pollard, Brad Wise, Micheal Montano, Sam Dana Bottom; Deanna Cowart, Cathy Gauna, John Blout, Paul Tafoya, Julie Bates, Tracy Warner, Veronica Guerrero

"Who wrote this book anyway?"

Deanna Cowart, "This book is making me tired."

Going Crazy

Busier than bees the Student Council was there to please. With Gregg Edgar as their Sophomore President, they made a float that was presented in Gilbert Days, which turned out quite well. The Junior President Jami Ball and her group worked well on activities and pleased their class. And Chandra Nielson, who was Senior President, worked very hard in organizing the arrangements for the prom, which was definitely a success, along with the blood drive which was also a success, having 120 people as their goal, and 83 of them actually giving.

"Oh my gosh, I think we might we might like this school."

Painting the WORLD

Did you Know you didn't have to draw well or be an artist to be in the Art Club? It had a lot more to offer, like window painting at Christmas time and the National Art Honor Society, two important parts of the club.

"The Art Club helps develop respect for artists no matter how good or bad they may be," Scott Hansen commented. "After having painted Christmas windows in the rain, believe me I have a greater respect for window painters."

Monique Grimmert, president of the Art Club, although frustrated with Basha's manager, was still enthusiastic about window painting and the club in general.

Band: State and Beyond

Band is not just a group of people and instruments. It takes a lot of hard work, practice and sweat. And it shows!! The band has taken state and won all sorts of trophies on their trip to California.

We have the only band that everyone loves. "Why not? We are the best in the state," said Junior Tom Hicks. But we must keep ourselves humble. It's not only the musically talented, well skilled, and greatly trained musicians, it's the man who made them work, sweat, and practically killed young marchers of heat stroke. You did a fine job Mr. Hatler!!!

... FBLA: Off and Rolling

For only being in its second year of existence at Gilbert High School, the Future Business Leaders of America club was off to a good start.

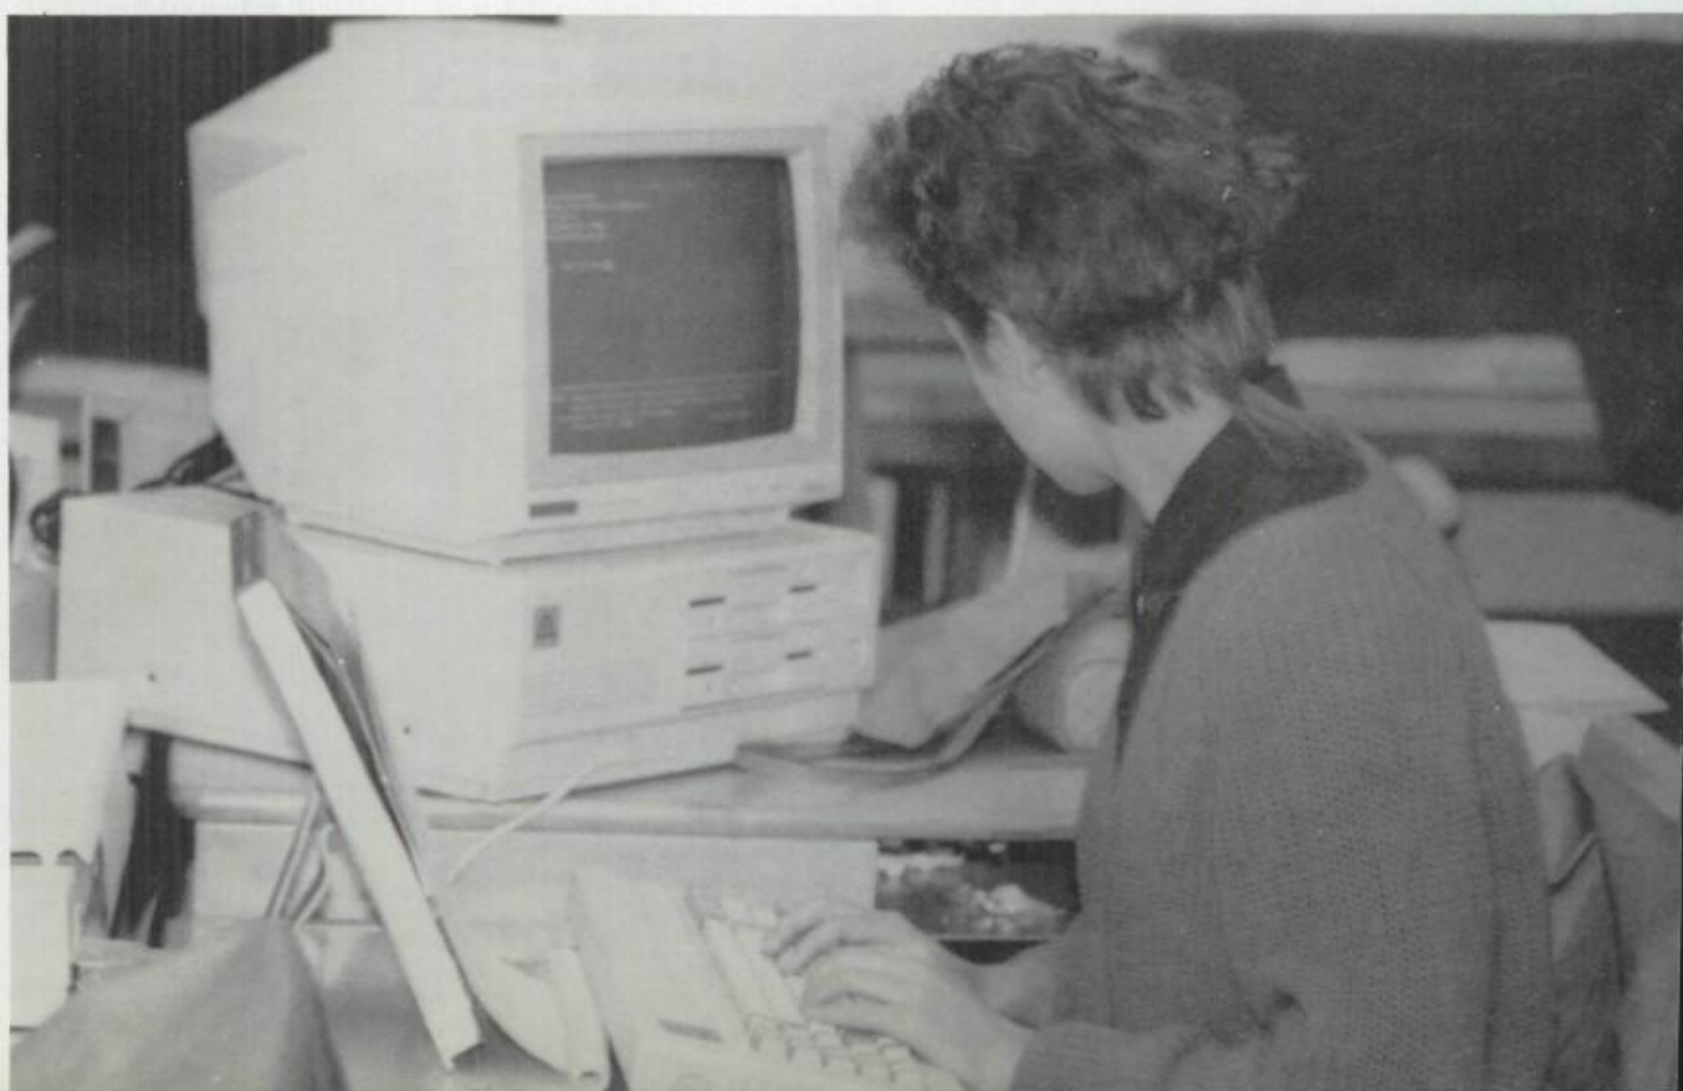

And what exactly did this club do? Well for starters, FBLA taught and prepared students for the business world and how to be responsible. Those were all important things to know after graduation.

But, did you have to be an intellectual whiz kid or a computer brain to get involved with this club? The answer to that question is no! All you had to do was get involved in some type of business class.

FBLA prepares all of the future generations for the difficult challenges they will be expected to face, but in a fun way. For example, FBLA went on a trip to California to compete with other students in business skills.

Tonya Buel concentrates on her future wardrobe instead of FBLA.

Working hard on the computer, Cathy Stephens is a little confused.

Danelle Dalton works intensely to add to the computer world.

Debbie Holden thinks that FBLA is a breeze after yearbook.

One more time

Under the direction of the legendary Rita Scholz, the Concert and Jazz Choirs wrapped up another successful music year. The Concert Choir had grown to 52 members, up 17 members from 1986, while the Jazz Choir number 17 with a performances volume that made you believe there were many more. Singing during Christmas at elementary schools in the community was in addition to school assembly and evening performances, always of the highest quality.

There is no doubt about our professional entertainment image, and the standard of Gilbert excellence continued.

Not Gourmets . . .

But we met every Friday morning for breakfast. "It's great to have a group that can meet once a week just to have breakfast and talk. It's hard though, trying to be there at 7:00 a.m. every Friday morning," commented Junior, Sean Harrison, President of C.I.A.

"It's a great opportunity for students to be identified as a group, individually giving them opportunities to serve, bridging the gap between what one says and what one does," commented Christian Seminary teacher and Friday morning guest Jim Bob Worthington.

"They come in, warm up, relax and start the day with the support of other Christian students. The atmosphere is casual, comfortable and is the best way to start a Friday, I could think of . . . except maybe not having to be here quite so early," added Mrs. Sandie McCammon, Christians In Action Sponsor.

Slightly Wild in Drama

"I think Sometimes." said Junior Steve Terstegge when asked what he thought about drama club. He, like most of the people involved in the club was somewhat wild and outrageous.

Working in a variety of different activities, members not only acted, but watched others perform as well. It wasn't easy to plan all the trips, but president Michelle Bruington managed to handle all of the organization with ease.

The members of the club also acted in front of children and people in nursing and retirement homes.

It was alot of fun, but it did require alot of hard work, and believe it or not, some of the people took drama club as seriously as athletes took their sports.

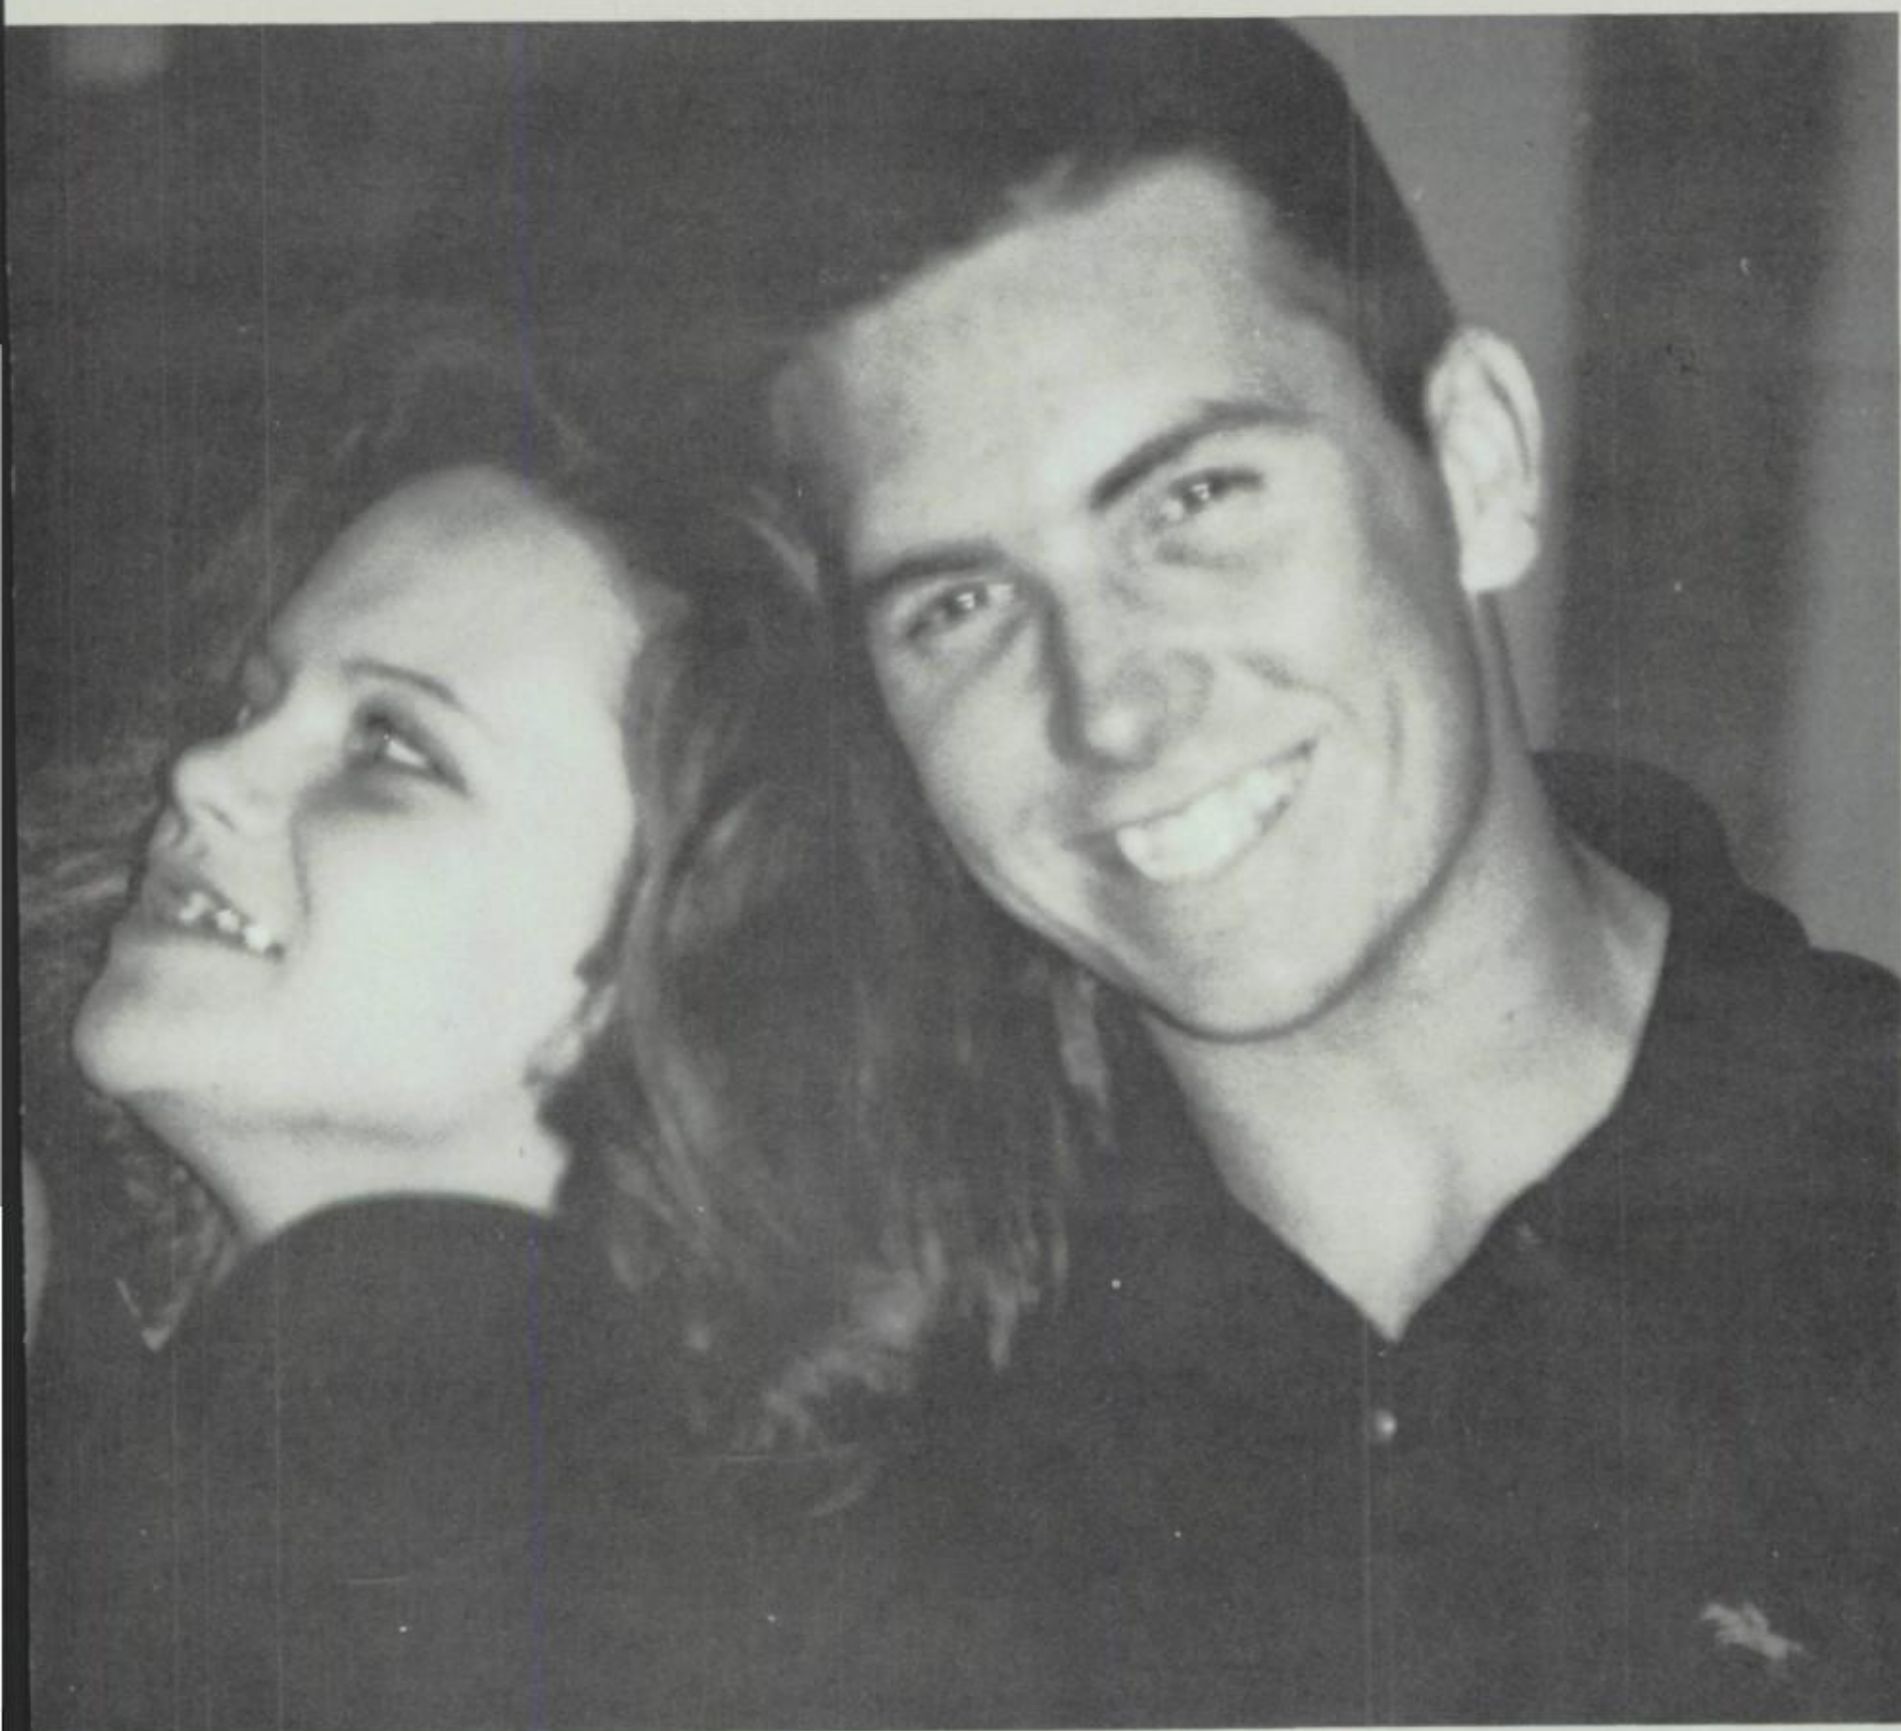

Brian Mobley says, "Behold, I have arrived."

Parlez-vous Francais?

Can you speak French? A well-known phrase used throughout France makes Spanish students answer differently. Both the French and Spanish clubs were very successful this year with the number of people and activities planned. The Spanish club was able to sell jewelry to raise money and planned on going to the Fair, while the French club sold candy to raise money for a trip to a French restaurant.

The presidents of these clubs were Carl Hill of Spanish and Kim Hospisil of the French club. Both these presidents were very outgoing and represented their club very well. Laura Toenjes commented, "I feel we had a really good year."

From Bombay to Spain, Denmark to Japan, then on to the U.S.A., foreign exchange students traveled to Gilbert from all parts of the globe.

Song Hansen after only one month with us, left because of homesickness. She was born in Korea and adopted at the age of two by a Danish family. Song had already graduated from High School in Denmark, but wanted to experience the American way of life. Her favorite pasttime was artwork.

"In Denmark, you are only required to attend school up until the ninth grade, then it's up to you if you want to continue," said Song. Song admitted it was not easy talking to people and making friends. She started learning English when she was 12 years old and spoke it fluently. The other languages she spoke were: Danish, German, and French. In Denmark you cannot obtain a driver's license until the age of 18, but there is not a legal drinking age. Unlike America, in Denmark they celebrate Christmas on the 24th of December.

American Adventurer Gabriel Perez, came to us from his faraway home in Northern Spain. This Senior admitted he did have some problems with the language. Gabriel sees a big difference in American schools and Spanish schools.

"There, we start at 9:30 in the morning and we don't finish until 6:00 in the evening."

Shiuli Subaya was a very special person. Who journeyed from Bombay, India to Gilbert High School; courtesy of the Rotary Club International. Shiuli enjoyed sports, dancing, S.A.D.D, choir, Drama, and various other activities. She loved school and involved herself very much. Shiuli has a boyfriend in Bombay and misses him alot, but he calls her long-distance to solve this problem.

Mamiko Sakurai was a foreign exchange student from Japan. She said people in the U.S.A. were alot happier than the people in Japan and they dress similar. Mamiko said that American schools were very different.

"In Japan, you only have one class all day long, and students don't move- teachers do," "Also, our breaktime is for ten-fifteen minutes, not for only five. In her spare time, Mamiko enjoyed the movies and disco dancing. In Japan, you had to be eighteen to go to places like "Sergant Peppers." Japanese High Schools do not have school dances. Mamiko said she enjoyed the United States of America very much and even suggested that she might come back to Gilbert High school again next year.

"In Japan, we can not have year-books until our Senior year," Mamiko sadly remarked.

Our American adventurer also stated that Gilbert High School is alot easier and funner. "In Spain, you didn't have time for sports.

Gabriel said he enjoyed Soccer and tennis very much at Gilbert. In his spare time, he liked partying on weekends. He did admit that it was hard to make friends for the first month. Perez lives with a Host Family and was very happy with them. He also stated that he would consider coming back also, except he did not enjoy the hot weather in the summer.

Shiuli Subaya also said that she loved Gilbert High School. Her friend Keri said, "Shiuli is an excellent friend-she is very friendly and everyone loved her!!!!"

"Shiuli is a very special person to be so faraway from home and not miss her family that much. She involves herself very much with activities in school and that takes a very special person," remarked Sandie McCammon.

Leaders of Agriculture

In 1964 Gilbert High School won first place in the National Meat Judging Contest in Kansas City. Gilbert High School was the only high school in Arizona to win such an award. Since then FFA was able to send students to Kansas City, and each year an award of some sort has been won.

Denia Barnett stated "If it were not for FFA I probably would not have been as interested in school. I have learned a lot about dealing with people and life in general."

In addition to class work FFA was also a student organization. Once a month after school meetings were held to confirm upcoming events.

A Student Advancement

Gilbert High School had it's share of activities, among them included Boy's and Girl's State and Anytown, and FHA (Future Homemakers of America). Boy's and Girl's State was a camp for socially and academically chosen students to learn about the government and it's position in society. Anytown was a week long camp designed to give an appreciation for people. At Anytown you learned about other people and their cultures. "It gives you a chance to see and experience other peoples way of life," remarked Mike Howell.

FHA was a club designed to teach and prepare the young people of today for the domestic world of tomorrow!

The Gilbert Chapter of VICA, short for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, was a group of vocational auto students. Their purpose was to give experience in leadership and increase pride in their chosen occupation. Members participated in state and regional leadership conferences, had opportunities to compete in state and national skill olympics, and improve their attitude and work habits through the VICA experience.

"It's a great learning experience," Chad McDaniel commented to Nevon Boyer and Scott Clement.

"We enjoy learning and teaching things to Mr. Balls," joked a couple of young men who asked to remain anonymous.

Hot summers and cool camps... That's what was on the minds of three lucky recipients of a one hundred dollar scholarship to a running camp in Prescott, Arizona. The girls who won these scholarships were Stacy and Tracy Carpenter and Suzy Willman. To raise money they held a run-a-thon. The money they earned went toward running equipment such as running shoes, shirts, shorts, and entry fees for 10 k's and various races around Arizona. The running club is most active in the months of January and February.

Current Times

The Tiger Advisor ... there was hard work behind the title.

For the first time in 65 years, Gilbert High's newspaper changed its name to the Tiger Advisor. The staff had decided on the change to "start fresh" and new to create their own reputation.

"It took time and patience to produce a good newspaper. We had to work on layouts, printing and editing the stories, not to mention keeping a "nose for news," declared staff editor, Kerri Savell. "It was fun working against the deadline and reporting. We were here for the students, and the newspaper was their voice."

The staff was 14 determined students under the direction of Mr. Abaroa.

"Basically, we had a creative, talented staff. We had a few problems and lots of fun. One bad habit the staff did have was waiting until the deadline date to turn in articles," Kerri exclaimed when she thought back to the "excitement" of the newspaper room.

CHECKMATE

Did you know Gilbert had a chess team? Half the students at Gilbert didn't. They're a year round club. When People think of chess, they think of old, old, quiet men, thinking hard about their next move, but chess was nothing like that. These were kids who loved to have fun. Mr. Theile, chess adviser, knows his kids work hard. The team played ten matches, winning seven, losing two, and they drew one. Next year they are going for state.

"Hey, what's up?"

"Nothing much. What did you do this year?"

"Well I was an active member of a S.A.D.D. club."

"What was sad about it?"

"No not a sad club, but S.A.D.D. You know, students against drunk drivers."

"Oh yeah I was gonna join that. I guess I just didn't have time."

"That's the problem. Too many people have no time."

"Well, what all did you do?"

"Laura Hall, the president and Lisa Fox, the Vice president, kept busy by passing out "Contracts for Life;" they also helped sponsor a free night at the fair. There were lots of fund raisers too.

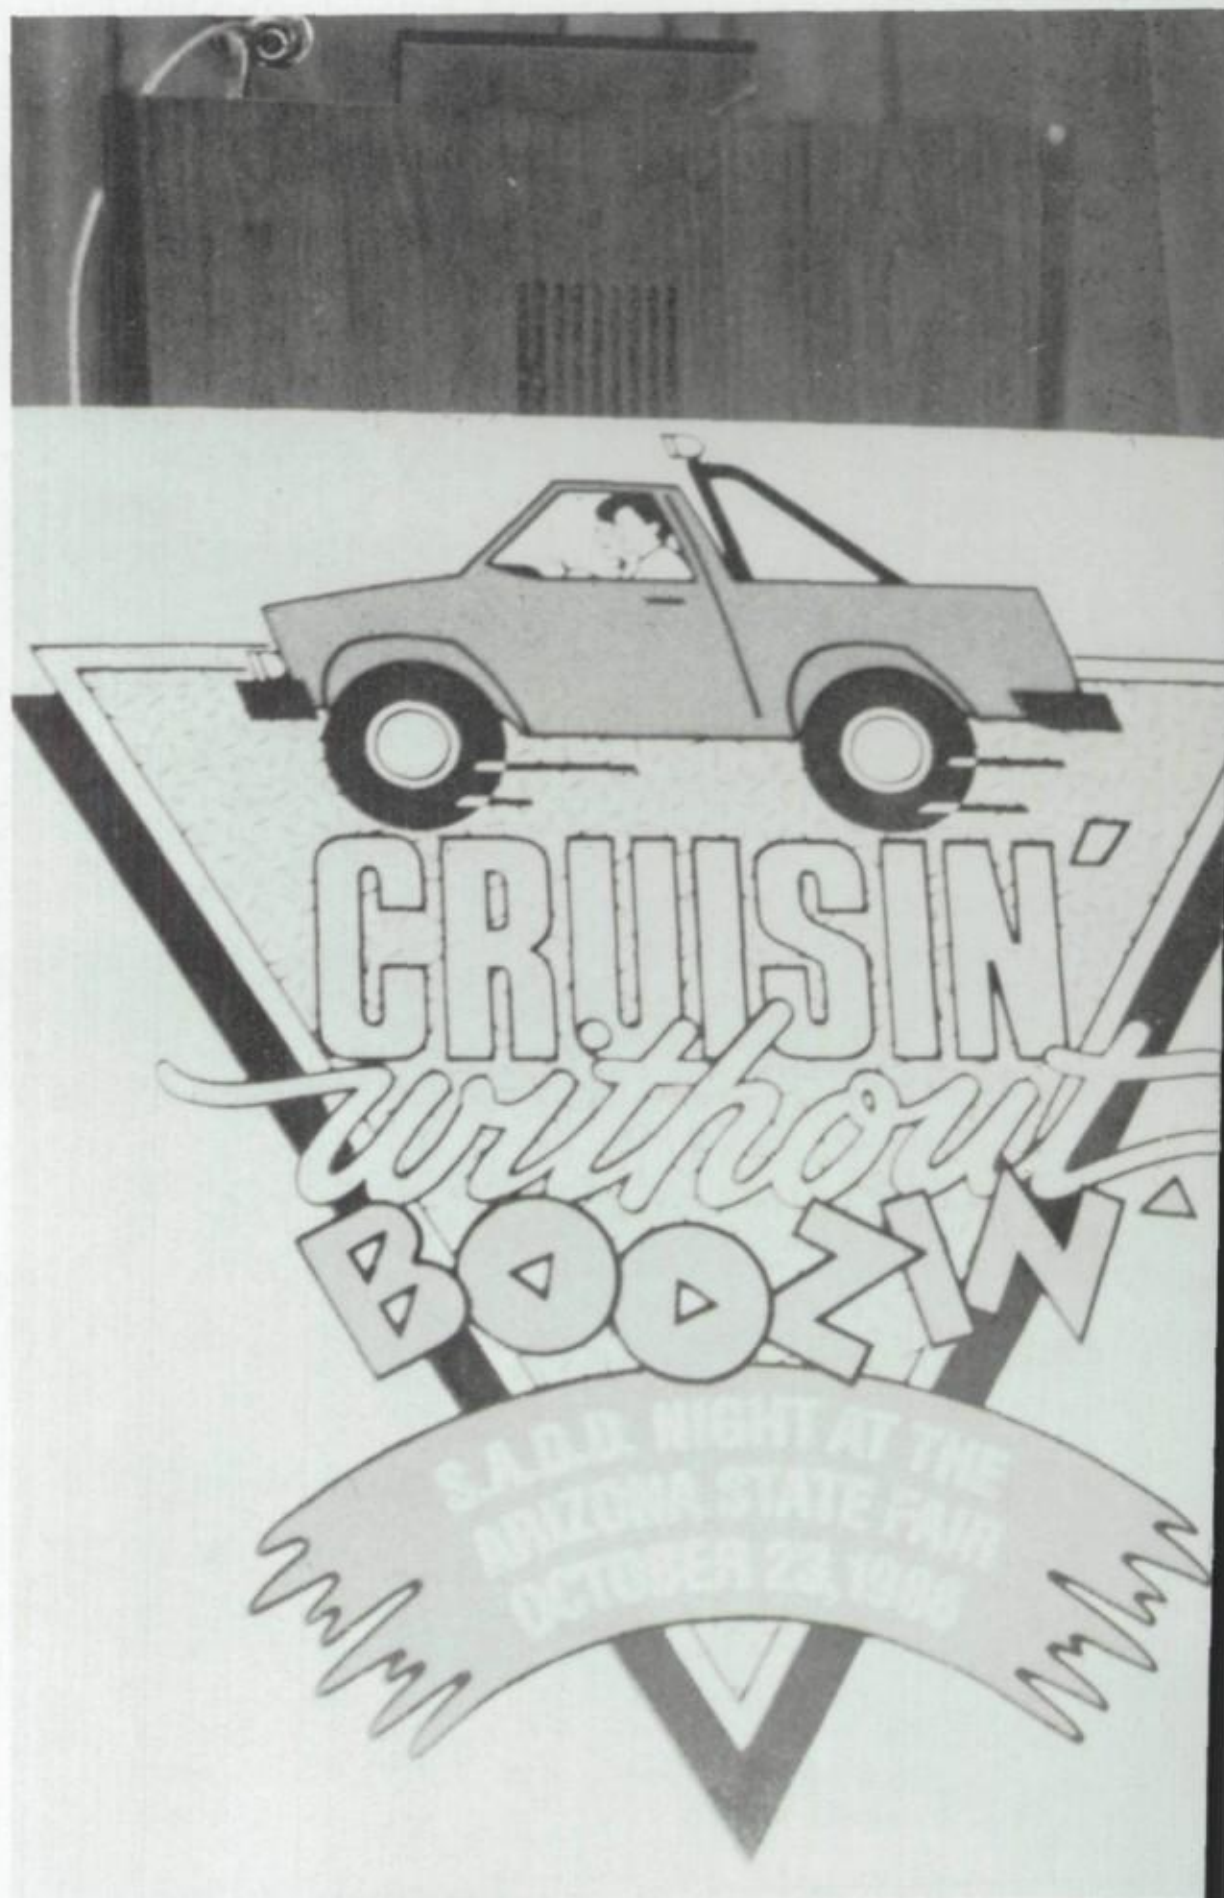

"Oh wow! Sounds neat, but who are they to say if we can drink?"

"They don't condemn drinking, just drinking and driving."

"Oh I see. How many people were active in S.A.D.D.?" "Unfortunately, less than thirty people!"

"Make that thirty-one, I'm in!"

Gone with the Snow

You did not have to be an expert skier to have gotten involved in ski club. "I've never even skied before; I'm just in it to learn how," said Senior Anna Leitch.

It seemed strange to have a ski club in Gilbert, since temperatures rarely got below 40 degrees, but where there was snow, no matter how far away, there were almost always bound to be skiers.

The ski club, which first began at Gilbert High in 1978, has been fairly active. "Kids have a good time, that's what it's all about," stated Mr. Paster, ski club sponsor.

As soon as the snow started falling in the mountains, these snow fanatics got all ready to hit the cold weather. Dressed warmly in their coats, ski pants, gloves, and hats, these Arizona skiers looked just like any other typical skier.

But, since ski club is for Juniors and Seniors only, Sophomores have to stay home.

"I don't think it's fair. If Sophomores can't be in it why should Juniors be able to? They should just make it a Senior club," commented Sophomore Karrie Krui-zenga.

None the less, Ski Club had a lot of fun.

"Kids have a good time. That's what it's all about," commented Mr. Paster.

"Speechies Team"

What does public speaking mean to the Speech Team? Hard work, dedication and most of all memorization are needed. The "Terrific Talking Tigers" of Gilbert are moving into the big league, with a year-long season of tournaments statewide. The team was the "Big-City" visitor up at Snowflake and Round Vally and won both tournaments. Sophomores took over some top spots and were looking at being strong AIA state competitors at the new High School.

Since 1978 Gilbert High School speechies have qualified for state each year, and a team member has finished no lower than seventh place statewide for the last four years.

This was a rebuilding year, but within two years Mrs. Satterwaite thinks Gilbert could be sending its first student to Nationals.

Dedicated Achievers

Dedicated adj. 1. devoted to a cause, ideal, or purpose.

That's exactly what this hard working yearbook staff was. Many countless hours were spent in completing these chronicles; slaving over layouts, copy, pictures and art work.

Our staff was very special, eager to try special effects that was the "new wave" look for yearbooks.

Deserving special mention were Jamie Ecker, photography editor and assistant Anna Leitch, who developed picture after picture.

"It was a lot of hard work and extra time but it was worth it,"- Anna Leitch. Thank you-from yearbook.

MOVING ALONG

Many victories and very few losses were our hallmark in sports. We were Seniors, and we all wanted to make it the best ever! We ended at 10-3 in football, short of State Finals by only a yard!

To be in any sport meant to have pride, honor, and dignity, backed all the way by our parents, faculty and of course the student body.

It didn't matter what sports you were in just that you did your best and were supportive of your team. Gilbert students were very proud of how well they had done and hoped everyone enjoyed sports as much as they did.

SPIRIT

Lets get a little bit rowdy, R•O•W•D•Y... Were some of many words used by the Wrestlerettes and Mascots to get the bleachers shaking. While the Wrestlerettes were keeping the crowd into the game, the Mascots were busy doing funny gags to keep the kids happy and add a type of entertainment to all.

Dione Clement and Laura

Toenjes enjoyed working with each other as a team. Their double spirit was well performed.

Our Wrestleretts decided they wanted a different name than Matmaids. When asked why, Kris Hansaker answered, "I still consider myself a Matmaid; Mr. Loyden is the only one who thinks differently."

Change of Address?!

When was the last time you waited impatiently to relocate? For most Juniors and Sophomores it was waiting for the opening of the new campus, but for one last time graduates "came home" to the campus that has been Gilbert High for 22 years.

Monday Nov. 3rd touched off Homecoming activities with Red Hot Day, inspired by the Blood Drive, also held on that day. A very spiffy Classy Day on Tuesday brought out the best threads; a Twin Day saw more than just the usual people dressing alike, and Toga Day was followed by the ever traditional nighttime bonfire on Thursday. Spirit was bright on Black and Gold Day at the parade and game.

No Homecoming's complete without a King and Queen! Seniors Rex Gillespie and Karen Wood were chosen to rule the kingdom.

Buffy Hernandez and Matt Amos were Junior Attendants; Ann Marie Pennington and Troy Clare were Sophomore Attendants.

The Varsity Football Players gathered around the bonfire roasting their marshmallows.

The Senior, Junior and Sophomore attendants showed their stuff in their horse and buggies.

Senior attendants Mike McDowell and Sheri Hastings took their chauffeured Homecoming cruise.

Jami Ball, Junior showed off her Toga Day spirit.

Senior Karen Wood and Mr. Gillespie, standing in for Rex, nervously wait moments before receiving royalty honors.

Tiger Pride in Motion . . .

Did you ever wonder what happened if the Varsity football players were late to practices or games?

"Things like that just don't happen," said Coach Gierke. What did happen was approximately 50 push-ups, sit-ups, and various other exercises every week at practice for games.

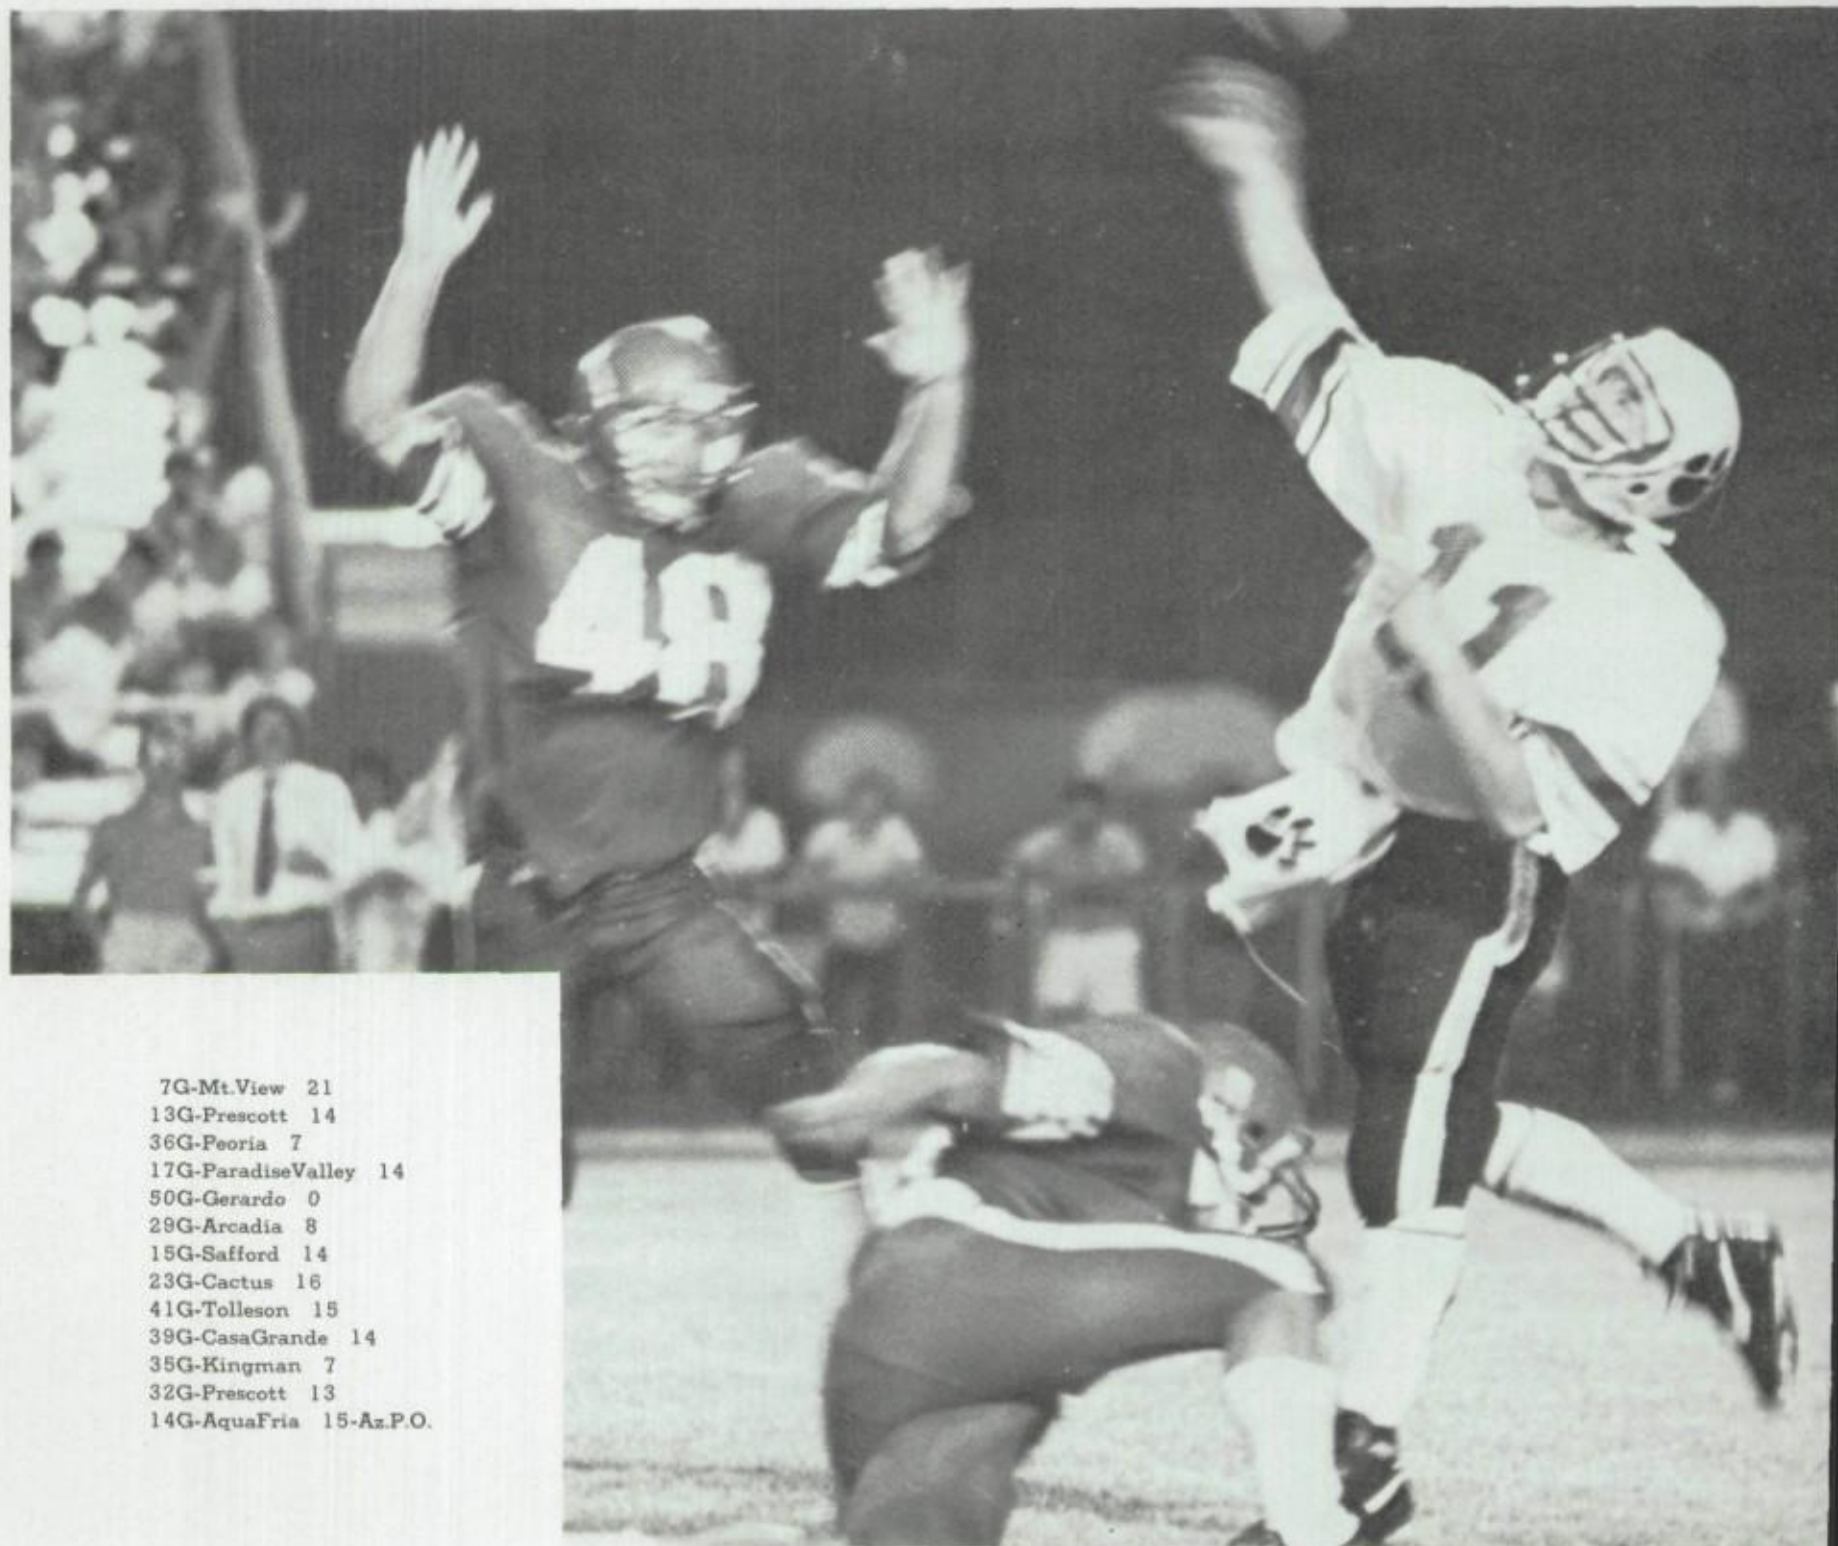

Against Prescott, Gilbert lost by 1 point, or in reality . . . we ran out of time. The clock was not functioning and time was kept on the field. The Tigers were positioned for a winning field goal attempt when time was called.

In the beginning of the season, we lost 2 openers, but won every one after that all but divisionals. Just like the "pros," right?

Playing against Aqua Fria in the state-playoff game, Gilbert lost 15-14. This game was a crushing experience for not only the football players, but also for the many students and coaches. Most everyone was crying because this games outcome meant so much to them, for this was the game that would of led us to state for the 2nd year in a row had we won. JV FOOTBALL IS MOVING UP

Has the junior varsity football team had a great season? Of course. The team set a record. Out of eight games they won seven and lost one. It was the season for Junior Varsity and hopefully these players will move on to varsity to make it even better. The school and it's students take a lot of pride in their football teams and players, and we hope that they continue to let Gilbert stand up with pride.

Since home coming came up right before their final and most important games, they quit. Although the girls golf team folded, the boys golf team did very well. They were runners up in the Division II Central Region Tournament. Individual honors went to Scott Storm for being Gilbert's number one golfer, also to Wes Hammon for placing seventh. It was a unique, but good season.

Going as far as the Divisionals, the girls volleyball team had impressive wins over Paradise Valley, Casa Grand and Prescott. The season was a good one although the team had some disappointments through out. Sophomore, Jamie Dossey and Junior, Loni Van Camp were the setters. Missy Pendleton, Elyssa Dahl and Melinda Smith were the main spikers and they all helped each other work their way to the Divisionals.

BOUNCING ALONG

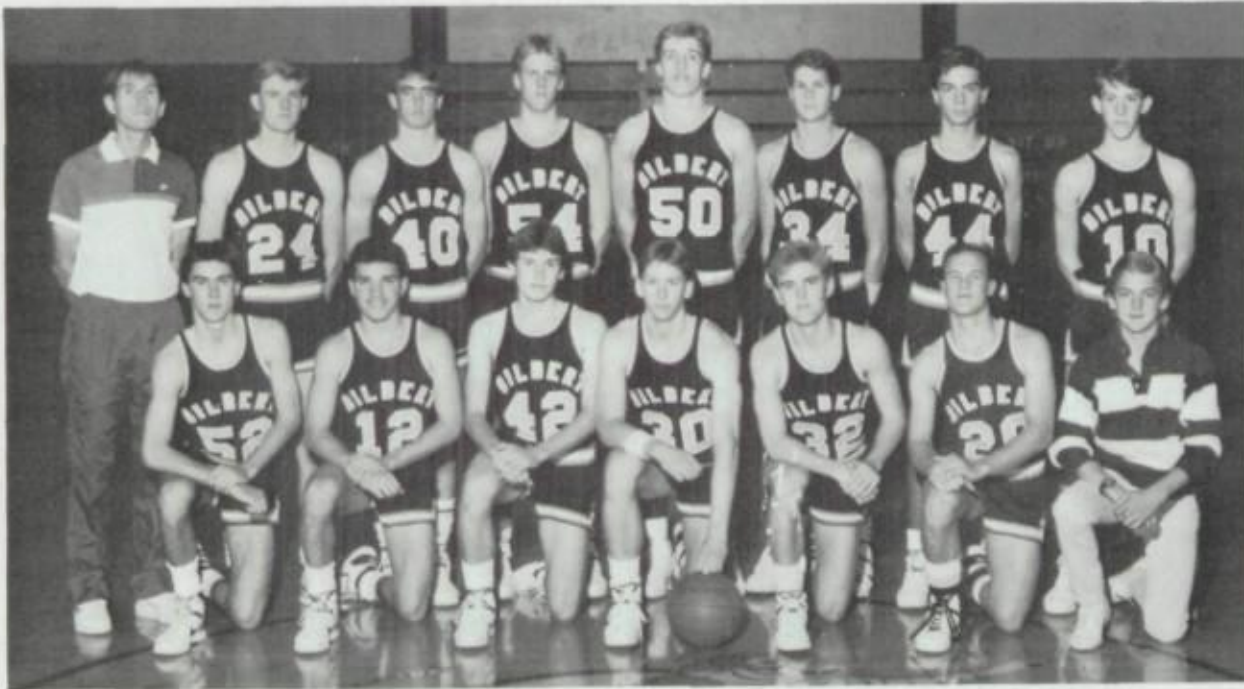

With positive outlooks on the new year, the Varsity Basketball players enjoyed not only the game and the hard work, but the unity and friendship each player gave to make the team a unit. Basketball, like any other sport, required a lot of practice, and always you only got out of it what you put into it. We were very lucky that our players always gave it their all.

Chet Brown, a Senior on the team, said the whole team was like a big family; everyone got along and helped each other out. He continued that Mr. Morton was a great coach, and always kept team spirit high. Chet said he'd miss the team when he graduated.

"I think that as soon as we make it to the finals, our team spirit will come together and will help make it a great season," added Chet.

TEAMWORK PLUS POTENTIAL

"A lot of potential, but a long way to go," declared Mr. Miner Webster when asked to describe the J.V. Basketball team. "It takes talent. If you have talent, you win, if you don't, you struggle."

Mr. Webster said that a "family concept makes a good team." When team member Jeff Waddington asked his opinion, he declared, "the players on the team get along with each other well. I think we become great friends by the time the season is over."

The J.V. Basketball team consists of 12 hard-working guys under the direction of Mr. Webster, "J.V. is a stepping stone. I am teaching the the skills of basketball in order to prepare them for Varsity."

"Mr. Webster is a great coach, probably the best I've ever had," commented Jeff Waddington. CONGRATULATIONS J.V.ers— Keep up the dunks, guys, your potential is shooting through!!!!!!

What do you think of when you hear "softball" mentioned in a conversation? Do sweat, hard work, umpires and coaches mumbling under their breath come to mind? Some of this was true, but softball was more than that.

The Gilbert Tigers were recognized as a challenging team when they were edged out by one point to undefeated Tolleson, and as a talented team when they easily slaughtered Gerard at 35-01. What can they say? The Gilbert softball team was a hit!

"I'm not worried. Everything's under control." Coach McCan's expression tells Coach Wheeler.

"We are going to win . . . We are gonna win." mumble players Danelle Maggard, Jamie Dossey, Tanya Regole, Melanie Lake, Tonya Anderson, Michelle McDermott, and Candy McDaniel.

The Tigers caused quite a commotion when they played against the McClintock Chargers, a Triple A1 team who was tied for first in that division. Though it ended in a tie of 1-1, the two teams battled it out until the 12th inning, when it was too dark to continue playing.

CATCH THAT BALL!

The Junior Varsity team finished the season with an overall record of ten wins and seven loses. In conference they were eight wins and four loses. The long and hard hours they spent practicing after school everyday really paid off with the first winning season out of the five years they have had a Gilbert Junior Varsity Softball team. The girls worked really hard and ended up in third place in Conference for their season. When asked how all the girls worked as a team, Danelle Maggard replied, "I think all of us got along really great, and we all worked together to make it the best year ever."

TAKE DOWN

"I was kind of scared because I didn't now what to expect this year with a new coach and alot of good wrestlers," replied Terry Bonner when asked how he felt the first time he tried out for the team.

"It's an awesome sport. It's (also) the hardest sport, because your constantly moving," said Aaron Masterson.

"Wrestling is hard for some people because they wrestle below their normal weight," continued Terry Bonner. "The teammates become like a family because you spend many hours of the day together. After (someone) wins you are happy because you know they helped the team. If the guy you wrestled got hurt, then the fun of winning is gone. Before a match I don't even look at the guy, and I don't worry about losing; I just try my hardest."

I think wrestling is fun because I like to hurt myself to get in shape," concluded Terry Bonner.

Wrestlers finished the year with a 3-5 dual meet record. The placed in two tournaments: first in the Dobson tournament and fourth in the Doc Savage (Gilbert tournament).

Final Take Down

Excellence. The state of being better than or to have proven superiority. The G.H.S. combined Varsity and J.V. wrestling team may be justly labeled excellent. The spirit and devotion of each of these of each of these talented wrestlers was evident in all they did. Through trials and tribulations the team made Gilbert proud through divisionals and other competitions. Our successful team travelled all the way to Las Vegas taking 10th place out of 16.

Advancing Performers

It could be heard for blocks! It echoed for days! It was the last shout heard 'round the school! The spirit and pep created, made it hard to overlook that it really was the last pep assembly on these grounds.

For many students A pep assembly had the definition of "Early Free Time!": To leave school before the pep assembly and have "fun" with your friends shopping at the mall for most girls, grabbing an early dinner, and for the guys? Well they also went to shop at the mall ... but for the GIRLS!!

Even though none of this was approved by the administrators, the students left anyway ...

Dancing The Night Away

There were a lot of things teenagers could do on a Friday night but when there was a school dance, a lot of people forgot what they could have done and attended a school dance.

Night Clubs like Sargeant Poppers, Prisms, Confettis, Tommys, after The Gold Rush, and Devilhouse often distracted high schoolers from their school. However high school dances were cheaper than these clubs, and more familiar faces could be seen there. As a result, our school dances often gave the clubs competition.

Then there was the KZZP Dance which was special because the Gilbert High School students worked together to get canned food goods to feed the starving in Arizona.

Special recognition went to the wrestlers, who drove around and collected can donations. Coach Loyden made sure the team members got enough by threatening that for every can short of the other schools, they would run a mile.

Several people at Gilbert awoke every morning to the popular d.j. at the KZZP radio station, Bruce Kelly. And when Gilbert was one of the runners up in the canned food drive, and they won a special dance d.j.ed by the Windy City D.J.s, with a special appearance of the one and only, Bruce Kelly. Who couldn't help but get excited??

The Saturday Night Party Patrol even stopped by to checkout the festive occasion. Kent Voss talked to several Gilbertites, and several people got a chance to be live on the radio.

Though Bruce Kelly was late, John O'Rourke kept everything rolling and even gave out records to everyone with a birthday in February.

When the "Bruiser" finally did get there, he continued in handing out things, such as records, t-shirts, and Selson Blue Shampoo samples. He flattered Gilbert by complimenting our school in a lot of ways, making the gymnasium alive with wild and excited people.

Bruce later started a chant of "Yo, Pico" as to get Mr. Pico out on the floor to show us Gilbert kids how to dance, but fear not-Mr. Pico decided to learn from us and to just sit out the dance.

Our Co-Ed dance, also known as "Sadie Hawkins", was at the Pioneer Elementary School. This was the girls opportunity to ask the guy of her choice.

"I was really nervous when I asked Jerry. It was a lot of fun though," said Sophomore Viki Bates.

Since girls asked guys, they had to do alot of planning. Gilbert High came alive with colored balloons and flowers the week of Co-Ed.

Asking the guy was not the only problem; girls had to pick the perfect place to eat among the favorite restaurants which were Bobby McGees, Lunt Ave. Marble Club, Charlie Browns, and T.G.I. Friday's.

The other girl ask guy dance was tures.

People only saw the finished product when they went to dances. The clubs that put on the dances had to work hard to make them memorable. At Co-Ed there was a mini-Eifel tower in the middle of the floor—now that's creative!!!!

Getting prepared for the dances was always an exciting occasion girls had to buy the prettiest dress within their price range, and guys had to get the nicest jacket, tie and pants possible.

Many weekends were spent going from store to store looking for the perfect dress. Then there was the question of how to wear your hair; every one had to make sure that theirs was a with-it, pretty hair style.

And so it went ... another girl excited and ready to make plans for the big Co-Ed dance, would be daydreaming of the evening to come for about the next three weeks; then it would be time for the nervousness to set in. That usually started after the dress was bought, and plans were all finalized.

Little mention was made in 1949 Gilbert Annual about the dances that were held, but the Prom theme then was a Southern Plantation and Encanto park was selected as the site for the party.

It was held on March 26th and was attended only by Juniors, Seniors, teachers and their dates.

In 1954, Over The Rainbow was the theme for the Coed, and the auditorium was decorated with multi-colored streamers and soft lights. Anita Knight was elected Coed Queen by the members of the Girls League. Her escort was Wilson Morris, dubbed "Prince Charming."

Couples exchanged dances with their friends, drank punch, and listened to the music provided by Snooky Eubanks Band of ASC, Tempe.

Girls wore ballerina length formals of old fashioned net of many colors.

In 1974, the Girls League put on a Coed with Strolling Through The Park as their theme, decorating with streamers from floor to ceiling in a room filled with tables and chairs so couples could sit and have refreshments and talk together in between dances.

While dances have changed in how students dress and decorate for dances, our enthusiasm has not.

"I go to at least one a year!"

"I wouldn't miss them!"

These were often heard comments which reflected the spirit of participation and love of good times in Gilbert students.

It wouldn't be the same if they didn't have dances. How else could we get crazy with friends?? Good question.

Musicals and Monologues

Fanatic Dramatics

Musical: A light play or movie with dialogue, songs and dances. That's how Webster's New World Dictionary described our most talented high school. It took a lot of brainwork and preparation to be able to perform at their highest acting ability. Even though it looked quite easy, many hours of rehearsal, blocking in dance, music and acting were needed, making the whole effort worthwhile.

When asked about how she felt about performing, young Sophomore actress Angela Brue said, "It's a challenge. It's just the same type of workout as some of the football players get. I started acting in the third grade, in the play Pandora's Box. That was my first real acting part. Not only was it hard work, but it got you involved with school, and you meet new friends. It's never been easy. I've had to overcome my biggest challenges—pronunciation, and to get the right feeling across. Acting isn't just getting up and being funny and making people laugh. It takes a lot of hard work and different techniques you have to learn and perfect. It isn't easy not seeming nervous. Doing my first improv here was hard, not knowing the level of acting and how to express yourself." So far Angie had performed for over 10 different kinds of plays. Recently she was in Phoenix Little Theatre's Production of Brighton Beach Memoirs, and was in See How They Run here in Gilbert. Good Luck with the future Ang.

Paula Dean, Rita Scholtz, Bill Bitter, and Phil Hatler all worked together to make this show such a big success. You can tell we've got great school spirit because every year most of the staff members find time to be in these plays and help, not only the students, but they support the school Fine Arts Association.

George M. Cohan, The Yankee Doodle Kid was just one of the many plays performed in the auditorium. In every play, 50-60 people tried out each year. To judge and decide who played these roles was a very tough job, considering all the talent we had here.

Drama went by this small, but famous saying, "There are no small parts, just small actors". And if you'd seen any of the performances, you'd find this to be true. Every last person was important to the play, from the star of the play right down to a chorus member and dancer. Even though they might not say much, the expression showed in them. Everybody had a part to play and they all played their parts well. No wonder all those hours of practice were necessary.

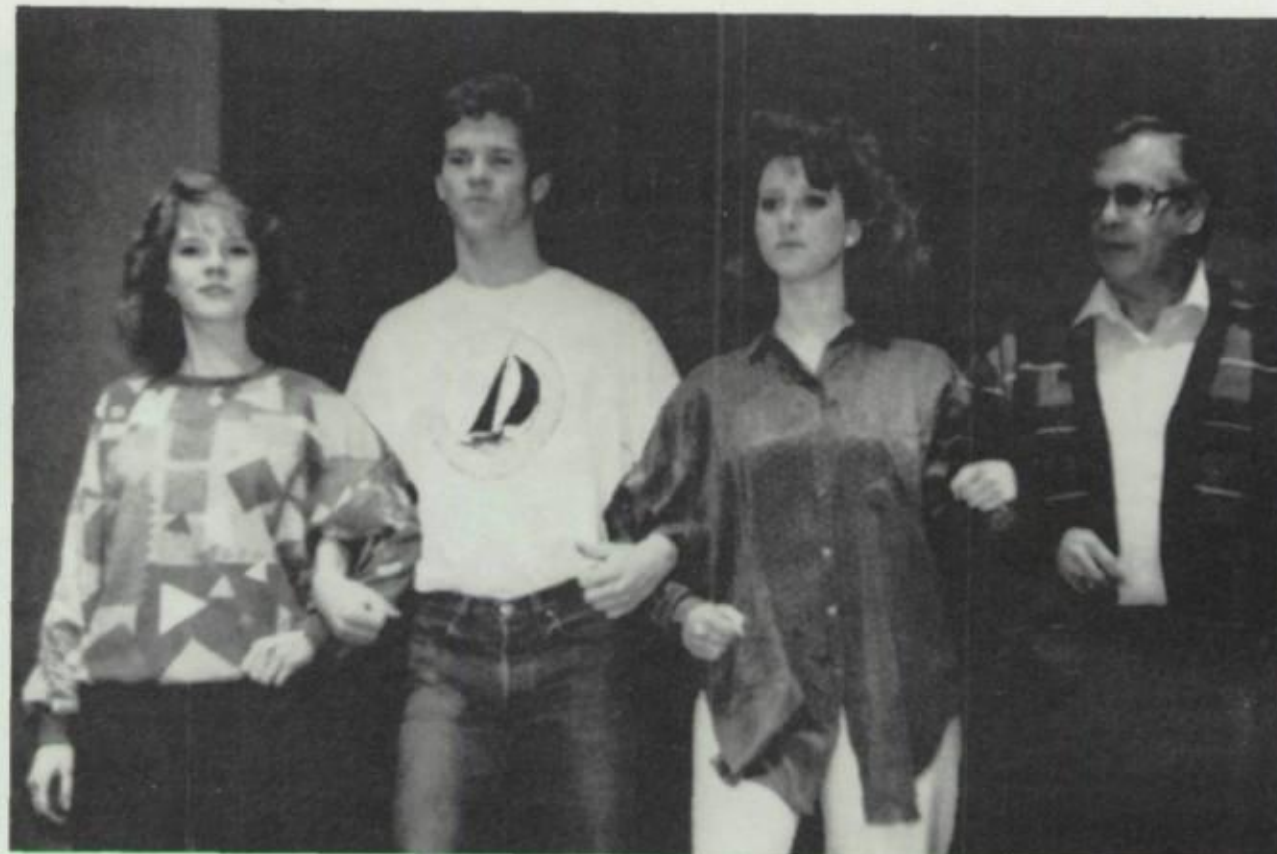

Miss Dean spent one day of practice teaching the chorus and dancers how to show expression well. There was a lot more life on the stage now because of her. They were able to show fear, excitement, sorrow and happiness, after less than one year of drama or even being in a play before. It took everyone to make the play come across effectively to the audience and make them feel what the people on stage were feeling. They were proud, looking great, having showmanship and have a ball.

It's a lot more than just jumping on stage and . . . poof! You're an actor. It took time and effort, practice and preparation not only for the people on stage but also for the ones behind the scenes. For hours after school, the stage craft and crew put together the props and

No newcomer to the baton, Angie Brue, at play practice always shows and acts like she knows what she's doing. You'd never know she hasn't picked up a baton in years.

The four Cohan's in action. Tricia Cardon, Dwight Bradshaw, Carrie Heward, and Dave Marthaler, strut their stuff and put on the best Yankee Doodle play ever.

ice people were put where they

In the last few weeks before the d crew were after school from mes even 9:00pm. Everybody hen your in the clothes that the ople wore in those times it akes you feel like it's back to s George Cohan and not just a low student.

Miss Dean always found some way to get the cast psyched for the performances. Before play practice one day she talked about relay runners and how they have to be concentrating all the time; they had to learn to play off of each other; if something went wrong they had to disregard it and go on. When she finished, we all stood up and stomped our feet, ran in place and screamed the words, "Let's take stage," and

"This will be the best play ever!"

Miss Dean gave each one of us a miniature flag to hold throughout play practices and performances.
It reminded us to put on the best show we could. Back stage Miss Dean was carrying a huge red, white, and blue striped baton, waving it in the air so that when we saw it, we felt the excitement.

Terri Basha said, "This couldn't have happened if everyone hadn't worked together as a team. That's what made our play such a big success."

In Memory

The Hardest Mile

All those workouts
Before the race -
Just remember
To Keep your pace.
The coach is confident;
You are not.
The other team
Is starting to plot,
The starter shouts
"Runners get ready."
Your heart palpitates,
Your hands are unsteady.
The gun goes off,
You start to run.
By the first lap

You feel like you're done.
They're closing in,
You keep ahead,
Just try to remember
What the coach has said.
One more lap -
The longest one -
This is where you really run.
As you finally finish
The hardest mile,
On your worn out face
Is a tired smile.
